No. of Participants/Beneficiaries: 40

Name of the activity Coordinator: Dr. Mahima Rai and Dr. Nivedita Sharma

Objective of the workshop/seminar/activity: To acquaint the students about the process of making crockery

Summary/Description: An industrial visit to Clay Craft (a premium crockery manufacturer) VKI, was organized on 25th February, 2020 for Yuva members of the University. A batch of 40 students and two faculty coordinators (Dr. Mahima Rai and Dr. Nivedita Sharma) left the IISU campus around 9:50 am and reached the Claycraft campus in one hour approximately. All were warmly welcomed by Mr. R B Sharma, Factory manager of the company and his team. Then the production manager took the students on a round of the factory.

First stop was the production unit, where the students were made familiar with the raw material used for making fine tableware crockery in the industry. Then the group was guided to the molding area where the crockery was being shaped. Next visit was to the assembling zone, where crockery was being assembled. While visiting all the units, the tour guide was efficiently explaining the whole process.

During the visit some other small units where cleaning and finishing work was done could also be seen. The last stop was to the labeling and packaging unit, where every batch was labeled and packed in boxes. It was amazing for the students to see and understand the manufacturing process of Clay Craft crockery.

Finally, to quench the thirst of our curious minds, the group assembled at the Reception area where not only the answers to the questions were given but the refreshments were also served. This learning visit came to an end with a group photograph of the Clay Craft team and the YUVA members. With a wholesome of learning, memories and experience the Yuva members reached the University around 12.30 pm.

Outcome of the activity/event/seminar/workshop: The students learnt about the process of making crockery.
