ALL INDIA COMMERCE CONFERENCE

The Indian Commerce Association (ICA) was founded as the oldest professional body in 1947 as a cohesive group of managerial experts, economists, industrialists from the business community, with the objective to serve as a forum for exchange of ideas, experience; collection and dissemination of information on business trade, commerce and management, and to promote research activities through organising seminars, conferences, workshops and meetings. ICA also provides technical assistance and consultancy its clientele, in addition to publication of books, journals and periodicals etc. ICA has, from time to time, conducted conferences throughout the country to serve the cause of excellence in trade and business.

The ICA, appreciating the professional and practical ramifications of corporate social responsibility, is endeavouring to get together academia and intelligentsia at the IIS University in the coming year in the month of October, with the objective of analysing the aspects of social responsibility and come out with feasible solutions to building a sustainable society for peaceful survival of one and all. We, at The IIS University, look forward to strengthening our alliance with an organisation of such high repute, thus enabling the members to develop unanimity on issues of business concerns, and implementing commercial and managerial application in Industry, consequently serving as a healthy forum for exchange of ideas and experiences.
