A Report of Open Session

On 28 February 2015, Mr. Gaurav Agrawal, All India Rank 1, UPSC 2015 topper was invited to address the students of the University on 'How to prepare for the Civil Services Exam'. It was a very special occasion for the students to get the opportunity to hear and interact with the AIR 1 2015 topper himself!

He was accorded a floral welcome by Dr. Sharad Rathore, Professor and Head, Dept. of History and Protocol Officer, IIS University.

Associate Professor Rihdsidh Singh, Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes, IIS University gave a brief introduction of the Preparatory Classes of the University and also introduced Mr. Gaurav Agrawal to the students of the University.

"Mr. Gaurav Agrawal is unstoppable" she said. He cleared the toughest Engineering exam at the age of 16 and bagged AIR 45 in IIT JEE 2001.

Dr. Singh
Coordinator
Civil Services Preparatory Classes

Mansarovar, Jaipur - 302020

Graduated from IIT Kanpur in 2005 in computer science engineering. He cleared the MBA exam at the age of 21 and scored 99.94 in CAT 2005 and joined IIM Lucknow. He bagged the gold medal in 2008. After which he worked for 3 years for Citigroup as an Investment Banker. He did not stop there. He left the well-paid job to serve the people of India. He appeared for the Civil Service Exam in 2013 and got into IPS. But it was in his second attempt in 2017 that he topped with AIR-1. He created history by becoming the first person from Rajasthan to have attained AIR-1, a 'Gaurav' (Pride) for the state.

Mr. Agrawal believes that the Civil Services provides an opportunity to do something meaningful for the society. Also it provides the opportunity to do justice and improve the lives of the marginalized and the poor. He maintains that "two months of an IAS Officer is more meaningful than 20 years of Investment Banker's job because it is an opportunity to serve the society in a better and meaningful way."

He is a technology enthusiast. Apart from his love for technology he is an avid follower of cricket and a die-hard fan of Virat Kohli.

Mr. Gaurav Agrawal then shared his valuable success mantra with the students of the University and motivated them to have a clear perspective

Coordinator
Civil Services Preparatory Class
IIS (Deemed to be University)
Mansarovar, Jaipur - 302020

as to why they want to join the Civil Services and only then start preparing with complete dedication. "With Hardwork, Patience and Perseverance one can crack the exam, he said. The focus should be on the syllabus and previous year papers.

The exam is an integrated exam it is not three different stages. While studying any topic one must keep in mind how one can be asked a question objectively in the Prelims and subjectively in the mains. In the interview too how one would put forward one's opinion on the subject is important. UPSC specifies that you must have a general understanding of each and everything mentioned in the syllabus.

For the source material he stressed on focusing on NCERTs along with one reference book. Making notes is very important. Also giving periodic tests will give an idea as to where one stands.

He explained at length about answer writing which is the most important aspect and should be constantly practiced and improved upon. He mentioned that the General Studies and Optional answers are completely different. "Just stick to the basic points and present them in a way which is easy to comprehend," he said. For example if a question is asked on what is the RBI doing to contain inflation? One should answer all the points on

Civil Services Preparatory Classes
IIS (deemed to be University)
Mansarovar, Jaipur - 302020

what RBI is doing to contain inflation and also add a para in the beginning on what is causing this high inflation and a para in the end on the effect of high inflation if RBI is not able to control it. Then the answer will be considered better.

One thing he stressed on that helps in answer writing in the exam is preparing a list of points for a few broad topics. For example, 10 points on 'How to Remove Corruption', 8 points, on 'How to Contain Inflation', 10 points on Problems of Panchayats' and so on.

Finally on the presentation style just use your common sense, he advised. He preferred to write the answer in points and sectionwise with sub-headings. This gives the impression that all aspects have been covered and the answer is structured well. Practice will make it perfect.

Newspaper reading is a must. While reading the newspaper one must look out for any committee, any law, any rules, any policy, any Supreme Court orders etc., which have been introduced or implemented. These are important for UPSC preparation. It is sufficient to read only one newspaper. Journals should also be consulted during preparation. Journals like EPW magazine, Yojana, Economic Survey, Budget Document, Niti Ayog Document, Multiple Committee reports, are some of them.

For the preparation a rational study plan should be chalked out. Do not chase the target. "Enjoy the journey without worrying about the target. Work passionately and success will come to you", he said. The session ended after an invigorating interactive session and a vote of thanks to the esteemed speaker by Associate Professor Ridhsidh Singh, Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes.

A Report of Open Session

The centre for Civil Services Preparatory classes held an Open Session on 6 February 2016. The Open Session was addressed by Shri Manoj Kumar Sharma IAS, Dy. Chief of Protocol, Govt. of Rajasthan.

He motivated the students and gave them valuable guidance on 'How to prepare for the Civil Services Examination'. As well as Importance of Communication Skills.

He was welcomed by Associate Professor Ridhsidh Singh, Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory classes and was accorded floral welcome as well as a memento of gratitude by Prof. Sharad Rathore, Head, Department of History and Public Relation Officer, The IIS University.

Shri Manoj Kumar Sharma began by sharing his life experiences. He said that he hails from a small village in Mewar where there was no Electricity or tap water in his childhood. He remembered what a festive atmosphere it was when the electricity arrived in the village. There were great celebrations when municipal bulb was lit up for the first time. Due to eagerness and excitement every one kept awake all night basking in the light. Even in those dire circumstances he had made up his mind to become an administrator. He said that everyone has some talent or the other hence one must understand one's strengths first and not follow anyone blindly. He went on to relate that in the village they were taught in Mewari language, the local dialect and not in Hindi. It was only in the VI standard that English was taught. So one had to first learn Hindi to be able to understand English. In those days a big occasion for the Villagers was to partake in the village feast known as 'Jeeman'. They had to carry their own utensils for the feast so while he would be seated in the last row of the class he would clean his glass with sand in preparation for the feast. The teacher was teaching future tense in class and mentioned that 'shall' goes with (or is used with) 'I' & 'We' and 'Will' will go (or is used). Giving an example the teacher explained that "Ram will go", "He will go", "She will go" etc. but "I shall go" and "we shall go".

The next day he was asked by the teacher as to who does 'shall' go with? Because he was not paying attention in class the day before and was busy cleaning the glass he did not know the answer. He felt very ashamed and swore to be attentive in class henceforth and not make a fool of himself.

But after the VI class he came to Jaipur for further studies. Here no one taught in Mewari but in Hindi. He felt lost as he did not know fluent Hindi. But he was determined to learn. He got III Division in VII Class. He did not lose heart. With thorough concentration and utmost hard work he managed not only to conquer his weakness in Hindi but learnt English also and topped the class hence forward. Also went on to win a gold medal in the university.

He related the incident when an officer came visiting in school in a car with a red light. He was enamoured by it and resolved to become an officer one day. He found out details of how one has to prepare for the exams etc. He took help & guidance from his teachers for the preparation. In the final year of graduation he appeared for the prelims with complete preparation. He studied 15 hours a day.

On reaching the examination hall he so many aspirants who were much older than him. But because he was confident of his preparation he, did not feel nervous. His strategy of preparation was well-planned by giving more time to the subject he was weak in. He memorized according to the pages of the book so that he could recollect in the examination hall. He cleared the prelims easily. During the Mains he felt he had not done as well in a few papers but when the result was announced he was thrilled to learn that he had got through.

For the interview he was a bit nervous because he was very lean and thin but was fully confident of his communication skills. He practiced for the interview in front of the mirror as to how he should answer the questions.

The first thing he was told by the interviewer panel was that he was too young to become an officer. Being a student of History he quoted Akbar's example saying that "If Akbar could become a ruler at the tender age of 13 and Babar win Fargana at the age of 14, he said that he was sure he could administer a district at his age. The interview was basically to gauge one's leadership qualities, one's communication skills and whether one could handle a large public gathering etc. He advised the students to always express themselves but not to have any expectations and always be honest.

He stressed that communication skills are of utmost importance and so is creativity. Hence, always develop a hobby, which could be writing, singing or any other hobby. Also the handwriting has to be improved because it creates an impression on the examiner. Always write the answer according to the question that has been asked keeping the word limit in mind. Write to the point and that too only the important points as there is a word limit. Only then can one score high marks. Never repeat the same words while speaking or writing as it mars one's communication skills. Be precise, prepare thoroughly and be confident. One can achieve what one has set out to and attain heights.

Chalk out a study time table. For e.g. if you wish to history first then take another subject, say current affairs that will give on a complete change from the previous subject and one's mind will be refreshed. Then study Geography and so on so forth. One should keep studying different subjects instead of only one subject at one time. There will not be any monotony this way and subject continuity will also remain.

After his inspiring talk and answer session Shri Manoj Kumar Sharma was thanked by Ms. Ridhsidh Singh, Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes.

A Report of Open Session

The Centre for Civil Services Preparatory Classes held an open session on 21st January 2017. The open session was addressed by a young dynamic officer, Ms. Anjali Rajoria, Assistant Collector & Executive Magistrate, Ajmer.

She was welcomed by Associate Prof. Ridhsidh Singh, Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes and accorded a floral welcome by Dr. Sharad Rathore, Professor & Head, Dept. of History and Protocol Officer, The IIS University, Jaipur.

Associate Prof. Ridhsidh Singh introduced the speaker and also gave a brief introduction about the civil services preparatory classes run by the University.

Ms. Anjali Rajoria has had a brilliant academic record throughout. She was born and brought up in Jaipur. She did her schooling from Sawai Man Singh Vidyalaya, Jaipur. She secured merit in the Xth standard and opted for Physics, Chemistry and Biology in the XIth standard. After which she took the Pre-Medical exam and got through 5 medical examinations including Rajasthan Pre-Medical exam. She chose to do her medical studies from Lady Harding Medical College, Delhi. She then appeared for the Civil Services Exam, succeeded in her very first attempt and got into the IRS i.e. Indian Revenue Services- IT but her goal was IAS. Which she achieved in 2015 and is holding her present post in the Rajasthan Cadre. She is an avid reader and has a passion for writing. Her articles have been published in newspapers like 'The Hindu' & magazines like the E&PW etc. Her journey has been full of achievements.

Ms. Anjali Rajoria then shared her success mantra with the students. She explained the pattern of the exam which includes the 3 stages- the Prelims, Mains and Interview. She mentioned that earlier the marks of CSAT paper-II of prelims were counted and she secured 190 over all in both the G.S. paper I & SCAT paper II of the Prelims which gave her an edge over the other aspirants. But now the CSAT paper is only of qualifying nature and in G.S. one has to score high marks to get into the cut-off list to appear in Mains. She said that the minimum preparation for prelims is at least 6 months and she told the students that they are really lucky to have the preparatory classes in the University itself. "Your preparation here is going to give you an edge over the others", she said.

While preparing for G.S. she stressed that attention should be paid to newspaper reading and journals. Also public speaking should be practiced. These three things are really going to help in one's preparation. As the syllabus of Civil Services is humongous one must make notes or keep a diary. Any good article one comes across, for eg. on monetization one must keep that article or prepare a short note and go through it again and again. This is really going to help with one's preparation specially for revision before the exam. The ready material one prepares comes in handy.

There after comes the Mains, which is the deciding factor for one's selection. These are two qualifying papers, the Essay paper, G.S. I, II, III, IV- (including ethics) and 2 papers of the optional subject. "Ones writing skills have to be exemplary," she emphasized. Reading and writing skills are very important to attain good scores. Along with newspapers one must read the government reports for eg. Verma Commission recommendation report, ARC recommendations etc. Prepare short notes on these reports. One has to read a lot. Specially for subjects like history, geography etc. One should start with the NCERT books and make short notes from them. There after one must go on to higher level books. This will help one to build a strong base. One's concepts must be clear to score well in the examination. Also be clear about the events for the national and international importance that are going on currently UPSC mostly focuses on those events of the past one or two years. Current events are most important for ones preparation along with knowing the history or the background as to why they happened or occurred.

For the ethics paper nobody knows how to prepare for it because its very wide and open ended. There are no standard books or standard answers. One could be asked ones response in a particular situation so there is no preparation for these kind of questions. Though there are certain schools of thought of ethics & among other things there are the ethics reports of the IInd ARC recommendations. But one's impromptu reaction to the questions will help in answering the questions. One has to be aware of the basic recommendations of the Govt. eg. if there are recommendations of the Govt. for protection of human rights, or protection of constitutional rights etc. A good reading and writing habit will help one in formulating a good answer for these kind of situations.

For the 4 G.S. papers, Ms. Rajoria suggested, that one must go through the syllabus and be aware of the syllabus of history, geography, constitution of India, International events, sociology, everything mixed into one. She stressed on two things being very important- understanding the syllabus and going through the previous years question papers. This will give one an idea on how questions are asked and how one should prepare for them. Also writing answers is a must and getting them checked by teachers or seniors who have cleared the exam helps. All this will take 3 to 4 months. The focus should be on the Mains.

Whereas interview is basically testing of ones personality. Marks of both matter but if you've secured high marks in Mains, it helps and gives one an edge over the others.

She broke a few myths associated with the preparation. The first being that one is required to study and study and do nothing else. So one must slot nothing else for 10 to 12 hours- this is a myth" she said. There a difference between hard work and smart work. One must make notes and revise them over and over again, answer previous years papers, & practice writing answers- these are really important.

About newspaper reading she said that whatever is impacting our society, our economy or our polity in general are important. One needs to make notes every single day on National events, international events and whatever is impacting our economy. One needs to make different sections for each of these.

For the selection of optional subject, the criteria should be to choose a subject which one has studied before or go through the syllabus, previous years' papers, answers of successful candidates and see whether you are comfortable with writing these answers or not. One could accordingly opt for that subject, Other factors too can be taken into consideration, like scoring subjects compared to others, eg. Law, Medical Science, Economics, Engineering etc. Take up an optional subject you are comfortable in, often going through the syllabus and previous years papers helps.

In a subject like Geography for eg. one should be good at maps and drawing. So see your own abilities what is it that you are good at and decide accordingly. Another factor can be the kind of material that is available in the market.

The strategy for answer writing as suggested by Ms. Rajoria is to read the question well and understand what is being asked. There's a difference between these term explain a concept, analyse a concept and critically analyse a concept. So understand what is being asked and then answer.

Secondly while answer writing one should be specific and to the point. Elaborate on what is being asked. Structure the answer with introduction, body and conclusion. Also one's positive attitude has to be reflected towards everything in the answer. Whether it's towards society, towards the kinds of problems the nation is facing, one's positive attitude has to be reflected in the answer. So always end it with a positive note. This is one of the key factor while writing answers.

For Interview participation Ms. Rajoria said that one must prepare well. Its basically the test of one's personality. Most of the questions asked are one's reactions to a particular situation. For eg. if one is faced with riots how is one going to respond to the situations? They test whether one has the ability of an administrator or not. Secondly one has to be good with one's bio-data, information about one's hometown, state etc. One will definitely be asked questions on ones hobbies or interests mentioned in the bio-data.

The last thing according to Ms. Rajoria is one's hard work and consistency that will really pay off. There is absolutely to substitute for hard work to clear the exam. One should start preparing during graduation as it will give one a strong base for civil services. It's one of the toughest exams.

For essay writing topics like globalization, women empowerment or any other social issue can be asked. One must go through the previous years question papers. There is a particular structure in writing an essay eg. if you are writing an essay on women empowerment one cannot just write whatever is given in editorials, one has to write something from one's side also. One has to be creative. If one reads, writes and gets one's essay checked it'll really help. One can start the essay with a quotation. Also anecdotes help in attaining a good score. Even the conclusion has to be supplemented with something.

In the development dynamics there is a school of thought called feminism, there's a school of thought against the standard paradigm of development which is non-materialism etc. if these are prepared they will help with essay writing.

Discussions on important topics with peers and in a group is a must.

At the end Ms. Anjali Rajoria graciously asked the students if they ever need any kind of help or guidance they could contact her and she'll be glad to do it.

After an interactive session the speaker was thanked by the Coordinator.

The Centre for Civil Services Preparatory Classes and Dept. of History held an Open Session on Saturday, 28 July 2018, on 'How to prepare for civil service examination'. The speaker was alumna of the University, Ms. Padmini Solanki, IAS 2016, All India Rank 170.

There was an overwhelming number of students who attended the session in the packed AV Hall.

Ms. Padmini Solanki did her graduation from ICG with Political Science (Hons.). She topped in the subject in the year 2009.

She cleared the Gujarat Public Service Commission exam in 2015 with 116 rank and the civil service exam in 2016 with 170 rank. She has opted for IRS (Indian Revenue Services-Income Tax).

She was welcomed by Ms. Ridhsidh Singh, Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes and accorded a floral welcome by Dr. Sharad Rathore, Professor & Head, Dept. of History and Protocol Officer, IIS University.

In her motivational lecture she advised the students to first of all have a clear perspective as to why they want to join the civil services and only then should they start preparing for the exam with complete dedication. "The right time for preparation is along with graduation", she said.

Civil Services Preparatory Classes
IIS (The Institute of Studies, University)
Mansarovar, Jaipur - 302022

She pointed out to the students that they are very fortunate to have the Centre for Preparatory Classes in the University as they have the opportunity to prepare with the right kind of guidance and follow the correct methodology to crack the examination on campus itself.

She strongly recommended that an integrated approach should be adopted for the preparation i.e. while reading for prelims one must keep in mind how a question on the topic can be asked in the Mains or even in the interview.

For sources and making of notes, she suggested that only authentic sources should be referred to. For example, the NCERT books should be read "line by line", she said. In the static subjects the topics should be linked with current events. A habit of reading the newspaper regularly must be developed. Always make notes while studying so that they can be reverted to during revision. For subjects like geography maps are very important. Flow charts and diagrams should be included as and when required in all the subjects/papers.

She stressed on three keys which are extremely important during preparation: Confidence, Patience and Support System. One should be confident and have faith that one can do it but not become over confident. Utmost patience is required during the preparation and also while giving the exam. The support system of the family, friends and mentors is an absolute must to help in tiding over the strenuous period of preparation. "Consistency and UPSC are synonymous!", is the mantra she gave to the students.

A Report of Open Session

An open session was organized by the Civil Services Preparatory Classes on 27th July 2019 in the A.V. Hall. The speaker was Mr. Akshat Jain, All India Rank 2, UPSC 2018 Topper. He was welcomed by Associate Professor, Ridhsidh Singh, Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes and given a floral welcome & memento of gratitude by Dr. Raakhi Gupta, Rector & Registrar of the University.

Ms. Ridhsidh Singh introduced Mr. Akshat Jain to the audience. He is UPSC 2018 topper with All India Rank 2. He graduated from IIT Guwahati in 2017 and did his engineering in designing. He was able to clear the exam in his second attempt with the support from his parents who are also civil servants. He chose anthropology as his optional subject.

Ms. Singh also shared the methodology followed by Civil Service Preparatory Classes of IIS University. The strategy followed consists of 3R's. i.e. Read, Revise and Repeat. The three year integrated course facilitates the students to develop a deep sense of understanding and learning of the subjects. Guidance of the outstanding faculties helps students in cracking various UPSC exams.

Mr. Akshat Jain strongly recommended the 3R's method of preparation strategy followed at the University. He then shared his strategy that helped him to secure AIR-2.

According to him, hardwork and consistent motivation are the key elements to overcome failure and face ups and downs during the journey. The most important thing during the whole preparation is a "well formulated strategy". One should set achievable daily goals. The ultimate aim should be to complete Mains syllabus before Prelims. Preparation should be Mains centric. General science and optional subject should be given equal importance. Maximum syllabus of GS papers should be covered before prelims exam. He stressed on "three key elements for the preparation namely note making, answer writing and self analysis".

Note making is the most important step. Concise notes play an important role in revision before exams. One should overcome laziness and prepare consolidated notes with hardwork. Notes should not only be precise but should also cover data from multiple sources. A daily habit of note making is important.

Answer writing and notes making are inter related. One should devote ediquate time of the day to develop a habit of answer writing on current affairs and editorial from newspaper. One must write atleast three answers daily.

Last but not the least, self analysis. Regular practice through mock tests and daily practice of answer writing help to eliminate errors which increases accuracy. Self analysis is of utmost importance.

While interacting with students he added, one should rely on only one newspaper and journal when it comes to current affairs. A regular habit of newspaper reading should be developed and editorial analysis should be given equal importance. For prelims, one should read NCERTs followed by advance books. Current affairs are very important and the best way to check your preparation is by solving previous years question papers and mock tests. It will not only enhance speed and writing skills but also improve accuracy.

He concluded by quoting "No Pain, No Gain". Sustained efforts and consistent hardwork is necessary to achieve one's goals. Positive results will surely come if one utilizes time smartly and devotes energy consistently.

Dr. Harshita Upadhyaya, Asst. Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes thanked Mr. Akshat Jain for his motivational and inspiring talk.

A Report of Open Session

An open session was organized by the Civil Services Preparatory Classes on 27th July 2019 in the A.V. Hall. The speaker was Mr. Akshat Jain, All India Rank 2, UPSC 2018 Topper. He was welcomed by Associate Professor, Ridhsidh Singh, Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes and given a floral welcome & memento of gratitude by Dr. Raakhi Gupta, Rector & Registrar of the University.

Ms. Ridhsidh Singh introduced Mr. Akshat Jain to the audience. He is UPSC 2018 topper with All India Rank 2. He graduated from IIT Guwahati in 2017 and did his engineering in designing. He was able to clear the exam in his second attempt with the support from his parents who are also civil servants. He chose anthropology as his optional subject.

Ms. Singh also shared the methodology followed by Civil Service Preparatory Classes of IIS University. The strategy followed consists of 3R's. i.e. Read, Revise and Repeat. The three year integrated course facilitates the students to develop a deep sense of understanding and learning of the subjects. Guidance of the outstanding faculties helps students in cracking various UPSC exams.

Mr. Akshat Jain strongly recommended the 3R's method of preparation strategy followed at the University. He then shared his strategy that helped him to secure AIR-2.

According to him, hardwork and consistent motivation are the key elements to overcome failure and face ups and downs during the journey. The most important thing during the whole preparation is a "well formulated strategy". One should set achievable daily goals. The ultimate aim should be to complete Mains syllabus before Prelims. Preparation should be Mains centric. General science and optional subject should be given equal importance. Maximum syllabus of GS papers should be covered before prelims exam. He stressed on "three key elements for the preparation namely note making, answer writing and self analysis".

Note making is the most important step. Concise notes play an important role in revision before exams. One should overcome laziness and prepare consolidated notes with hardwork. Notes should not only be precise but should also cover data from multiple sources. A daily habit of note making is important.

Answer writing and notes making are inter related. One should devote adequate time of the day to develop a habit of answer writing on current affairs and editorial from newspaper. One must write atleast three answers daily.

Last but not the least, self-analysis. Regular practice through mock tests and daily practice of answer writing help to eliminate errors which increase accuracy. Self-analysis is of utmost importance.

While interacting with students he added, one should rely on only one newspaper and journal when it comes to current affairs. A regular habit of newspaper reading should be developed and editorial analysis should be given equal importance. For prelims, one should read NCERTs followed by advance books. Current affairs are very important and the best way to check your preparation is by solving previous years question papers and mock tests. It will not only enhance speed and writing skills but also improve accuracy.

He concluded by quoting "No Pain, No Gain". Sustained efforts and consistent hardwork is necessary to achieve one's goals. Positive results will surely come if one utilizes time smartly and devotes energy consistently.

A Report
Open Session

The Centre for Civil Services Preparatory Classes and Dept. of History held an Open Session on Saturday, 28 July 2018, on 'How to prepare for civil service examination'. The speaker was our alumini, Ms. Padmini Solanki, IAS 2016, All India Rank 170.

There was an overwhelming number of students who attended the session in the packed AV Hall.

Ms. Padmini Solanki did her graduation from ICG with Political Science (Hons.). She topped in the subject in the year 2009.

She cleared the Gujarat Public Service Commission exam in 2015 with 116th rank and the civil service exam in 2016. She has opted for IRS (Indian Revenue Services-Income Tax).

She was welcomed by Ms. Ridhsidh Singh, Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes and accorded a floral welcome by Dr. Sharad Rathore, Professor & Head, Dept. of History and Protocol Officer, IIS University.

In her motivational lecture she advised the students to first of all have a clear perspective as to why they want to join the civil services and only then should they start preparing for the exam with complete dedication. "The right time for preparation is along with graduation", she said.

She pointed out to the students that they are very fortunate to have the Centre for Preparatory Classes in the University as they have the opportunity to prepare with the right kind of guidance and follow the correct methodology to crack the examination on campus itself.

She strongly recommended that an integrated approach should be adopted for the preparation i.e. while reading for prelims one must keep in mind how a question on the topic can be asked in the Mains or even in the interview.

For sources and making of notes, she suggested that only authentic sources should be referred to. For example, the NCERT books should be read "line by line". In the static subjects the topics should be linked with current events. A habit of reading the newspaper regularly must be developed. Always make notes while studying so that they can be reverted to during revision. For subjects like geography maps are very important. Flow charts and diagrams should be included as and when required in all the subjects/papers.

She stressed on three keys which are extremely important during preparation: Confidence, Patience and Support System. One should be confident and have faith that one can do it but not become over confident. Utmost patience is required during the preparation and also while giving the exam. The support system of the family, friends and mentors is an absolute must to help in tiding over the strenuous period of preparation. "Consistency and UPSC are synonymous!", is the mantra she gave to the students.

At the end of the very invigorating and inspirational talk there was an interactive session wherein the students asked questions and Ms. Solanki answered their queries.

The session ended with a vote of thanks given by Dr. Harshita Upadhyaya, Asst. Coordinator, Civil Services Preparatory Classes.

He talked about bottleneck in this field. Since genomics is a data driven domain, more the data being generated, more is the manpower required to analyze the data. Close to 40 exabytes of the sequencing data is expected to be generated per year by 2025. The lack of skilled manpower is proving out to be a big bottleneck in this opportunity abundant domain.

This lecture surely will help students in deep Understanding of Functional Genomics. It will also aid to the students and scientists who are planning to work on Next Generation Sequencing Based research projects using RNA-Seq, ChIp- Seq, DNA-Seq, Amplicon Seq, etc. Around 60 students attended this session.

The entire processes of career planning at the Counselling and Career Development Centre (CCDC) are ideally done in conjunction with the qualified Counsellor, so that individual has professional help at every step. Career counselling at the University helps the students to choose the career option and the appropriate course to their aptitude, identifying the values, aspiration and goals and scope of the course that one is pursuing or planning to pursue in India or Abroad.

To provide career counselling and vocational guidance to the student, the centre conducts various psychometric tests like:

1. Interest Test

A total of 11 rounds were showcased in the show, which were created by the students of Department of Fashion & Textiles.

The themes of the rounds were as follows:

- Indigo Fables

Of all the rainbow colours, one knew this one's between violet and blue. Deep and rich, a bit towards azure it's sustainable fashion, for sure. Indigo rules and how! The collection comprising pants, tops and skirts, crafted from cotton-dyed fabrics, tells a scintillating story of fashion clothing done right.

- Nostalgic Vibes

Old drapes get a whole new avataar in this reflective collection which draws inspiration from the four gates of the City Palace in Jaipur. Stately spirit gets transformed in silks, crepes and nets in tints of green, blue, brown and pink, adorned with embroidery and gota work to recreate the regal splendour of the past.

- Bewitching Blend

Freedom would not be to choose between black and white, but to adjure such a prescribed choice. Quintessentially opposite in a cultural and visual sense, this formal wear collection in black and white is a rage. Chic trousers, skirts with nifty tops and jackets in stripes and animal prints are sure to give the dull and boring board-room dressing a bold and sassy makeover.

Bewitching Blend

- Mosaic Flair

At the core of it all is nothing but the heart, One that understands the timeless appeal of the alluring mosaic art. A re-fashioning of denim gives way to realizing the designer's dream. Paired with tulle and bespangled with mosaic art, this dainty collection is sure to win the hearts of hard-core denim lovers.

- Wayside Wanderer

Coming straight from the majestic land of Rajasthan, asymmetrical 'street wear' in Khaddar is festooned with motifs, embroidery, appliqué, patchwork, beads and tassels, to create a bespoke look that promises to be an affair to remember.

Mosaic Flair

Wayside Wanderer

- Forward Fusion

Reminiscent of a time gone by yet contemporary and very with it, this collection in tie and dye lends a charm that's quintessential to fusion wear. The choice of regal fabrics in quirky tints and geometrical patterns works well to give us a classic amalgamation of the timeless old and the trendy new.

- Ethnic Enchantment

Shibori art gets imprinted in silk using natural tints of warm green, pigmented yellow and raw clay in western easy-going ensembles. The essence is that of the yesteryears coming to life in the here and now. An oompfy blend of the traditional and the modern, the outfits will surely be the go-to ones for the upmarket fashionista.

- Ethereal Saga

Invoking Lord Jagannath and drawing inspiration from Him, this opulent collection in taffeta, glace cotton, georgette and net uses metaphoric tones of yellow and white with well-crafted hand-painted temple motifs to express well-being and joy, in the celebration of divinity.

Amid the cheerful dayspring light, The Aurora glows, oh so bright. This dazzling formal wear collection uses interplay of lustrous colours, both inky and neon. Outfits in satin-silk and satin-cotton, flaunting the tie and dye technique, create a mesmerizing effect akin to the spectacular Northern Lights.

- Neon Glint

In the glow of the bright neon light, Let these beauties cheer and delight. Creativity gets embodied in artistic expression when pop colours in lively neon hues add to the spunk in this western wear-collection which comes embellished with neon accessories. All in all, the entire look promises to pack in quite a punch.

Guest Lecture on Interview Preparation and Resume Writing

Date: 23rd August 2018

Venue: AV Hall

Participants: 60

The objective of the Guest Lecture was to make the MBA students understand the standard CV information requirements and to achieve stand out - an identity you want an employer to see. The Placement cell of the University organized a Guest Lecture on Interview Preparation and Resume Writing on 23rd August 2018. The speaker of the session was Mr. Sandeep Menghani, Trainer and Founder Director, Yashasvi Bhav Ltd., Jaipur. The basic idea of organizing this session was to provide information regarding how to face interview and how to prepare Curricular Vitae. The speaker highlighted that CV is the first point of contact with an employer and is the make or break of your job application. It needs to be interesting to read, clear and concise. It should make a good first impression. From the employer's perspective, it's the only available information with which to assess your skills and suitability for a job. Everything in it tells a potential new employer something about you. Its purpose is to secure you a job interview. It won't get you the job itself - that is down to you during your interview.

CV is a marketing tool that is used to try and entice an employer into meeting face to face where we can sell ourself properly. It needs to be professional, eye catching, and has to show us off in every way possible. The lecture also enlightened the students with various aspects of campus placement and was a learning and informative session.

Outcome of the workshop: The participants were able to understand the importance of creating that all important first impression.

- Desi Firangi

An alluring blend of contemporary and traditional palettes offers a casual look to the apparel on show. Sartorial twists of indo-western silhouettes, anarkali cuts, dhoti-trousers and skirts, in electrifying hues and gota work, bestow a desi firangi touch to give us the best of both the sensibilities.

- Origami Terrestrial

This winsome collection gets its inspiration from the 'garden'. Tender grace and garlanded in vibrant floral shades using straight fit silhouettes in dresses made with diverse fabrics and embellished with the origami technique. Net hats, fine laces and floral trinkets add to the nymph-like look whilst recreating earthly paradise.

- Tutelary Vigour

An ode to the strength and ethos of womanhood, the attires are inspired by the Hindu Goddesses Saraswati, Durga, Kali and Laxmi. Feminine qualities get transformed into classy indo-western embroidered gowns and dhoti-trousers in the symbolic shades of black, red, yellow and pink, paired with decorous accessories, defining the complete woman-an amalgamation of valour and tender grace.

- Ritzy Earthbound

Promoting jute to make it commercially viable, digitally-printed, asymmetrical ‘street wear’ in stripes as well as voluminous jackets in shades of rose pink, olive green and amber brown, lend a snazzy look to this exquisite collection.

- Numen Myth

Invoking the Dragon God and firing up the creative imagination by drawing from temple architecture and monk’s attires to suggest a coalescence of Tibetan culture and religion, this eclectic collection uses emblematic shades of red, blue and orange festooned with well-crafted dragon motifs in golden cord hand-embroidery. A rich alloy of indo–western clothing is an embodiment of the spiritual fashionista.

Enfolded in ravishing red, over-the-top orange, young yellow, gorgeous green, boisterous blue and lovely lilac, the ensembles strongly announce each one’s right to participate in the

In terms of consumer value using AI will help run personalization and reaction periods to queries using technology like chatbots. The session was then opened to the students to ask questions and interact with the guest. The students were very eager to ask questions and learn more about Media Careers in the digital age. The objective of the workshop was to make students understand the various careers options available in the field of digital age. The workshop proved to be very fruitful for the students.

- Borrowed from the Boys- Inspired from men's fashion. Designed by- Snigdha Jain, Sakshi Khanna, Shristi Gupta, Vidhi Lunawat
- Retro Rewind- Old is certainly gold as this collection proves by using sarees from yesteryears to render them anew in an Indo-Western look and style. Shades of pink and blue are aesthetically used in fabrics ranging from the elegance of chiffon and kotadoria to the grace of silk and cotton. Designed by- Shriyanshi Vijay, Radhika Agarwal, DiaJangid and Ashi Jain
- Steampunk goddess- Traditional silhouettes, inspired by the structural yet extravagant style of the 1930s, have been crafted anew so as to suit the contemporary trends in fashion. The colour palette includes black and gold fabrics in raw silk, taffeta silk and net tissue to create all the dram Designed by- Stuti Gupta
- Stately Surprise- Here is a collection inspired by the hues and grandeur of the spellbinding state of Andhra Pradesh, especially its resist dyeing technique of the woven Ikat. Rich fabrics and vibrant shades in Chanderi silk and glazed cotton, that are inseparably associated with the royal heritage of the state of Madhya Pradesh, combine in a succession of cool and warm tones and in designs that showcase the old-world charm of a bygone era. Designed by- Riddhi Gupta, Kritika Mittal, Mallika Mittal and Shivani Jain
- Navras- The human life is a rich tapestry of color and texture, the warp and weft of the many experiences that shape it. The collection thus showcases life in its myriad colours represented by the nine emotions, wherein there is a colour for every mood. So, there is Shringara or Love indicated by Pink, Haasyam or Joy in Yellow, Veeram or bravery and self-confidence through Orange, Raudram or Anger represented by Red, Vibhatsa or Disgust shown in Brown, Shaantam or Peace in White, Adbhuta or Wonder through Blue, Bhayanak or Fear suggested by Black and Karuna or Sadness by way of Grey. Designed by- Prerna Agarwal
- London Talkies- This is a classic Western collection inspired by the iconic red bus and phone booth that are quintessentially London. A heady mix of ready-to-wear and couture, the collection boasts self-done screen-printing on silk and showcases a bright, contrasting colour palette to pep up the season using classic bold silhouettes. The dominating colour - purple - makes quite a statement in this city-chic ensemble. Designed by- Jyoti Yadav, Aishwarya Rathore and Jahanvi Badlani
- Madras caf'e- The collection recognizes the cultural identity and charm of Madras checks though in a manner which is pretty perky! It is a detour from the intense cuts towards embracing the lopsided synergy of cotton checks and floral chiffon. The asymmetric silhouettes are further supplemented with embroidered tissue and tassel details to give a structure look to the line. So, what emerges is a perfect coming together of design sensibility and quirky creativity. Designed by- Aditi Vyas

• Stocklet Frieze- The symbolic Tree of Life stands tall and grand, signifying the steadfastness that is needed to sail through life. Depicting precisely this spirit is this Indi-Fusion collection in earth tones using the 'tree of life' motif embroidered on garments in cotton silk that is crafted to absolute perfection. The use of geometric and straight lines and the dawn-to- dusk range of colours lend this collection an all too earthy tone and feel. Designed by- Shreya Garg and SonaliKhariwal

- Khadi Redifened- Known for its raw and earthy feel, India's signature fabric - khadi -has been used in this collection to signal both its arrival and conservation. Embellished with sequins, block printing and hand painting, the garments are given a ramp-ready look in a fabric that embodies a world-view of the past and re-emerges as a proud symbol of the Indian textile heritage. The use of bright colours and an Indo Western street fashion-style jazz up the entire look, compelling the young and fashionable to embrace khadi as couture. ## Guest Lecture on Opportunities in commerce

A guest lecture on "Opportunities in Commerce" was organized by the Accounting and Taxation department of the IIS University for B. Com honours students on 19th July 2016. We were fortunate to have CA. Yash Dadda from Dadda & Company for guiding students about the various career aspects available in commerce. What could have been better for career makers at this stage other than a valuable advice..

Mr. Dadda with his presence made the atmosphere more interesting. He focused on the importance of strengthening the roots and cleared the concept of professionalism. He made the students aware about the CA, CS, CPA, CFP, FRM, CISA and ACCA courses and their future prospects. The session proved to be very beneficial for students

Guest Lecture on Career prospects of Radio Jockeying

The department of Journalism and Mass Communication organized a guest lecture on Career prospects of Radio Jockeying on 25 January 2017. The Guest for the day Radio City RJ Prabhakar, arrived the halls by 1:20 pm & was greeted a heterogeneous group of media students, some on the verge of entering the professional world & some still to walk a long way. Around 75 participants participated in the guest lecture.

RJ Prabhakar, after failing in the competitive exam for military, started his career in the field of media in 2006. He started as an RJ in All India Radio; then he was forward with a job in Times of India as a crime reporter & later as political reporter in Sahara.

He boomeranged to be a RJ in morning show in Radio Mirchi for 5 years & now is handling shows, and aiming for a promotion as a regional manager in Radio City.

He began the session by refusing to give a lecture & creating an interactive atmosphere. He asked for students to which he answered enthusiastically. He outlined the importance of practical experience & ground work.

As an RJ, he explained the struggle of the audio media field and also the cons & pros of it. He shared various experience of his student years & the struggle he went through. He pointed out the fact that media field depends on creativity which comes a lot from reading.

He also briefed about the current lack of ethics in the RJ's & the loopholes of code of conduct. He concluded with asking to students to get a reality check, by accepting, that media is a hard & harsh field, which requires you to prove yourself every day. As at the end of the lane it is your skills that matter, not your or money or power or the name of a big university on your certificate.

The objective of the guest lecture was to emphasis the importance of practical experience and groundwork along with academic education. Students understood that their focus should not just be limited to their academic scores but also practical experiences that are a window to the real world.

Regular Vocational Counselling

The entire processes of career planning at the Counselling and Career Development Centre (CCDC) are ideally done in conjunction with the qualified Counsellor, so that individual has professional help at every step. Career counselling at the University helps the students to choose the career option and the appropriate course to their aptitude, identifying the values, aspiration and goals and scope of the course that one is pursuing or planning to pursue in India or Abroad.

To provide career counselling and vocational guidance to the student, the centre conducts various psychometric tests like:

1. Interest Test
2. Aptitude Test
3. Personality Test

These tests help the students to take an informed decision about their field of study.

ACCA Workshop

On July 31st, 2015, the department of Accounting and Taxation organised a seminar, in the Vinayak Hall of the IIS University, for students pursuing graduation in the field of Commerce. The key note speaker for the seminar was Mr. Noor Khushal, Business Relationship Manager, ACCA, Mumbai. He spoke about a career in accounting through ACCA qualification which is an Association of Chartered Certified Accountants, and is a global body for professional accountants, with an apt platform for aspirants of this dynamic course.

The seminar began with a video presentation stating certain facts and figures of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants. Interestingly presented, this video motivated aspirants to become an ACCA member. The said video also briefed students about the 14 exams one needs to get through to get an ACCA qualification and its 2 major level, namely; Fundamental and Professional.

Mr. Khushal also discussed with the students about the various benefits of this field. He explained them how they can get exemptions for the first six papers of the qualification process, as the syllabus of B.Com (Professional) AAF in the IIS University would be accorded with that of ACCA. The course provides the students with the required subject's knowledge and motivates them to gain work experience of 3 years along with their graduation.

Mr. Khushal made the students aware of ACCA employers and its association with multinationals like Genpact, Microsoft, Phillips, KPMG, BDO etc.

The seminar ended with a question-answer session that helped the students to resolve their queries. In the end the students were also given a toll free number (000-800-100-4298) and a website address (www.accaglobal.com) to fulfil their further requirements and queries.

In sum, the seminar was extremely informative as well as interesting because of its catchy video presentations, and Mr. Noor Khushal's address which was highly motivating and influential.

Guest lecture on ACCA

A guest lecture had been organized in the university on 26th September 2015 in the AV hall by the ATG department on the topic "Career prospects in Accounting and Finance" for the students of B Com (H) with proficiency in ACCA , CA and CS. What could have been better for career makers at this stage other than a valuable advice. We were fortunate to have Mr. Kapil Goel and Mr. Prabhanshu Mittal for guiding students on ACCA course. Mr. Kapil Goel is an ACCA member and is presently running his business in UK and Mr. Prabhanshu Mittal is working as a Business relationship manager in education for North India.

In the beginning of the session, guests were welcomed with tilak and token of love was given to them. Then Mr. Prabhanshu addressed the students, he explained about the ACCA course in India, the qualifications required, its scope and the employability abroad and in India. Then Mr. Kapil continued him by explaining about the examination pattern of ACCA. Finally both the guests interacted with the students and solved their queries. Session proved to be very beneficial for the students.

THE COUNSELLING AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT CENTER (CCDC)

THE IIS UNIVERSITY, JAIPUR

The Counselling and Career Development Centre (CCDC) is an endeavour of the Department of Psychology which started as a small initiative in the year 2013. The Centre was established to fulfil the following goals:

- Psychometric testing
- Counselling & Vocational guidance
- Life Skills coaching
- Creating awareness

A multitude of activities are planned by the centre all round the year to fulfil its goals. Full time counselling service is available for students as well as for staff members of the university, which includes career and vocational counselling, emotional and behavioural counselling, psychological testing and profiling. The centre also provides training/internship for students of psychology and COSD course in counselling & guidance. The cell also undertakes to coordinate numerous internships all-round the year at centres outside the university to provide the counselling enthusiasts first-hand experience in real settings.

Regular Vocational Counselling

The entire processes of career planning at the Counselling and Career Development Centre (CCDC) are ideally done in conjunction with the qualified Counsellor, so that individual has professional help at every step. Career counselling at the University helps the students to choose the career option and the appropriate course to their aptitude, identifying the values, aspiration and goals and scope of the course that one is pursuing or planning to pursue in India or Abroad.

To provide career counselling and vocational guidance to the student, the centre conducts various psychometric tests like:

1. Interest Test
2. Aptitude Test
3. Personality Test

These tests help the students to take an informed decision about their field of study.
