INTRODUCTION

In present situation when many of our students, research scholars and faculty members are unable to do their thesis work or write a research paper as most of them do not have access to statistical software at home Excel can be one of the most useful solutions for analyzing data. Excel in itself can do so much in research. Advanced Microsoft Excel skills can help academicians, research scholars and students in data analysis without using any expensive statistical software. The training programme will be beneficial for all who wants to learn essentials of data analysis in Excel and apply them in their research work or paper writing.

OBJECTIVES

- To use MS Excel to conduct data analysis.
- To identify right statistical tool for conducting data analysis.
- To enhance the analytical skills using MS Excel to promote quality research.

DATES

27 April, 2020 - 3 May, 2020

TIMINGS

4:00 pm - 6:00 pm all days

Namaskar !

A six-day National Workshop on Data Analysis using SPSS and EViews was organized by the Centre for Research, Innovation and Training, IIS (deemed to be University) from 24th February to 29th February 2020. The workshop commenced with the inaugural session on 24th February. Prof. K.S. Sharma, Director CRIT apprised the participants about the functioning of CRIT and objectives of the workshop. He further emphasized on the fact that this workshop was organized to address the challenges and opportunities in the field of research with the help of statistical software like SPSS and EViews. He also stated that the workshop will help the researchers to identify right analytical tool for conducting data analysis. In all 50 participants actively participated in the workshop.

Resource person for the 1st session was Prof. C.R. Bishnoi, Head, Department of Economics, IIS (deemed to be University). He elaborately discussed the importance of data analysis and its implementation in the respective domains. 2nd Session taken by Dr. Shweta Kastiya, Head, Department of Management Studies, IIS (deemed to be University), she demonstrated the functioning of SPSS including the following teachers like data entry for analysis, finding outliers, exporting and importing of data etc. Last session was taken by Dr. Vandana Sachdeva, Senior Assistant Professor, Department of Management. She discussed the concept of some features like select case, case split file and graphic presentation in SPSS software.

Report

The Department of Computer Science organised an online three day refresher programme on "Digital Platforms for Online Teaching & Evaluation" for the faculty members of the University on 24- 25 April and 30 April 2020 in order to generate awareness about various online platforms available for teaching & learning. The IISU faculty has been taking online classes successfully during the lockdown period. Through this programme they were further exposed to various other platforms which are helpful in effective teaching and efficient student assessment. LMS like Canvas and Google Classroom, Quizzers like Kahoot, Educaplay and class marker, Remote Desktop Sharing platform like Teamviewer, Secure Meeting platform like Cisco WebEx, Video recording software like Loom and Camtasia, Google Open Software like Docs, Spreadsheets, Jamboard, Meet were discussed. The program turned out to be informative for all.

The Awareness Programme on "Digital Platforms for Online Teaching & Evaluation" concluded with a troubleshooting and experience sharing session held on 30 April 2020. Wherein, participants' view about different aspects of the training, coverage of the different platforms, their preparedness towards these platforms, accessibility by students etc were discussed.

Apart from experience sharing, few problems faced by the faculty members while installing and using these technologies were also sorted out by the trainers. Faculty members also shared their future plans of incorporating these platforms for efficient online teaching and effective assessment of the students. The faculty members appreciated the efforts put in by the trainers and also gave positive feedback about the information conveyed by the means of this awareness programme.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

IIS (Deemed to be University), Jaipur is among the pioneers in Rajasthan in imparting high quality education to women in different streams. It is known for excellence in delivering value-based education to students and encourages them to think innovatively in different walks of life. It particularly focuses on preparing students to become world ready citizens, who are abreast to take any professional and social challenges with an educated and empowered mind.

About Centre for Research, Innovation and Training (CRIT)

Research, Innovation and Training are an integral part of the development of an institution of higher education. The quality of research and development being pursued and promoted at such institutions is indicative of their commitment to quality, and for ensuring significant research outcomes. For this purpose, the University has established the Centre for Research, Innovation and Training (CRIT) with an aim to giving impetus to research by way of workshops, seminars and conferences to train and encourage students as well as faculty members to take up research-based activities. The Centre endeavours to do so by facilitating and monitoring research-based initiatives by organizing periodic trainings workshops and courses in new and emerging research areas. In sum, CRIT attempts to identify and tap inter and multi disciplinary research prospects for fostering a robust learning environment

ABOUT WORKSHOP

This workshop has been planned in order to address the challenges and opportunities in the field of quantitative research with the help of statistical software. This Six day workshop is for the research scholars and beginners with little or no experience in handling data with the help of SPSS & EViews .

SPSS & EViews enables researcher to apply wide range of statistical /graphical and analytical techniques for data analysis. The workshop aims at making the participants acquainted with the SPSS & Eviews interface followed by the training on advanced statistical methods.

ABOUT JAIPUR

Jaipur, the pink city of Rajasthan is famous for its unique architecture, vastu, astrology, forts, monuments, palaces, art and crafts, culture and food. Here tradition, antiquity and the old charm of the bygone era mingle seamlessly with modernity and technology. This fascinating city with its romantic charm of history and a touch of modernity is sure to mesmerize you. The old city 'North Jaipur' has been recently declared as 'the heritage city' by the UNESCO and the Amber Fort and City Palace are on choice of every tourist visiting Jaipur.

A six-day National Workshop on Data Analysis using SPSS and EViews was organized by the Centre for Research, Innovation and Training, IIS (deemed to be University) from 24th February to 29th February 2020. The workshop commenced with the inaugural session on 24th February. Prof. K.S. Sharma, Director CRIT apprised the participants about the functioning of CRIT and objectives of the workshop. He further emphasized on the fact that this workshop was organized to address the challenges and opportunities in the field of research with the help of statistical software like SPSS and EViews. He also stated that the workshop will help the researchers to identify right analytical tool for conducting data analysis. In all 50 participants actively participated in the workshop.

Resource person for the 1st session was Prof. C.R. Bishnoi, Head, Department of Economics, IIS (deemed to be University). He elaborately discussed the importance of data analysis and its implementation in the respective domains. 2nd Session taken by Dr. Shweta Kastiya, Head, Department of Management Studies, IIS (deemed to be University), she demonstrated the functioning of SPSS including the following teachers like data entry for analysis, finding outliers, exporting and importing of data etc. Last session was taken by Dr. Vandana Sachdeva, Senior Assistant Professor, Department of Management. She discussed the concept of some features like select case, case split file and graphic presentation in SPSS software.

On 2nd day of the workshop, first three sessions were taken by Prof. C. R. Bishnoi, he covered the topic of Hypothesis Testing and the various parametric and non-parametric tests using SPSS.

The last session of the day was hands on training on SPSS under the supervision of Dr. Shweta Kastiya.

Resource Person for day 3 and 4 was Dr. Seema Malik, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce, Bhagat Phool Singh Mahila Vishwavidyalaya, she discussed the concept of Structural Equation Model (SEM) using AMOS and also taught the participants about how to compare the results of SPSS and AMOS. She also conducted a training session on exploratory factory analysis.

Training sessions on day 5 and day 6 was taken by Dr. Sunita Arora, Government College of Women, Rohtak. She gave hands on training on SPSS and Eviews covering the topics like; Regression Analysis, Multiple Regression, Time Series Analysis, Vector Auto Regression Model, Co-Integration Model, Ordinary Least Square Model and Auto Regressive Distributed Lag model.

I am sure, that the workshop was a learning experience for all the participants and the techniques learned over past 6 days will definitely help in improving the quality of research.

Thanking you,

Report on Two day Workshop on Google cloud G Suite held on 9th and 10th
August 2019

Day 1: 9th August

- The workshop observed the participation of 50 participants. The workshop was divided into 8 sessions. As our tradition, the workshop started with invoking the divine powers by lighting the lamp. Thereafter, a brief introduction about CRIT and the significance of the workshop was given by Prof. K.S. Sharma, Director (CRIT). This was followed by an interaction with Prof. Pradeep Bhatnagar, Dean, Faculty of Science where he elaborated the significance of digitalization with respect to saving paper and conserving nature.

Session I

- After the inaugural ceremony, the first session was taken up by Mr. Aditya Singh from Metacube. Mr. Singh discussed the basics of Google Drive and its application and its significance in day to day work.

Session –II

- Session II was conducted by Mr. Karan Sharma. Sr. Engg, from Metacube. Mr. Sharma took a hands on interactive session to explain various applications which can be used with G mail including various short cut keys to make work easier & smarter. He also explained the working of Google docs and its use in making work more manageable.

Session –III

- Third session was on Google forms, which is a basic requirement of conducting any research. The session was taken up by Mr. James, Data Analyst from Metacube. He explained the steps involved in making a Google form and its various uses.

Session –IV

- The last session of the day was again conducted by Mr. Karan Sharma where he discussed the working of Google slides in an interesting way

Head: IIT Bombay Remote Center

We have received an invitation from IIT Bombay to conduct (via AVIEW) a one day workshop for Teachers and System administrator on "eSim" ( a First Course in the IoT Series) under the project 'Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya National Mission on Teachers and Teaching' (PMMNMTT), funded by the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India.

Following are the dates for two workshops:

Coordinator Workshop (1 day): Saturday, 27 July 2019 at IIT Bombay- One Teacher to attend the workshop from RC. The venue of the coordinator workshop is IIT Bombay. The teacher should be from Electronics or allied engineering fields and should have basic electronics circuit design knowledge. He/she should have learnt eSim software using the Spoken Tutorials and should have installed, practiced eSim and uploaded the requisite project files.

The course fee for the Coordinators' workshop is Rs. 200/-, which has to be paid at the time of online registration. IIT Bombay will provide free accommodation, lunch and refreshments to the nominated teacher from the institution with participation certificate. The IIS RC will have to take care of the travel expenses of the nominated teacher.

Main Workshop (1 day): Friday, 21 September 2019 at RC- Teachers from nearby colleges to attend at the participating RC through A-VIEW. The teacher coordinator and system administrator will coordinate this workshop at the remote center. The participants of the main workshop are required to pay Rs 100 to IIT Bombay and Rs 400 to remote center.

Kindly allow IIS remote center to participate in these workshops. Also, kindly appoint a teacher coordinator to attend the coordinator workshop at IIT Bombay.

give hand on training for better upkeep of artifacts. This workshop was conducted with the help of presentations and practical exercises. There were 53 participants from all over the India. Besides Rajasthan, there were participants from Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh.

The workshop began with the inaugural session seeking the blessings of almighty followed by lighting the lamp. Guests were given a formal welcome.

Resource persons of the workshop were Dr. Anamika Pathak, Founder Chairperson, Textile and Clothing Research Centre (TCRC). Dr. Simmi Bhagat, Associate Professor, Lady Irwin Collage, Founder Member TCRC, New Delhi. Ms. Smita Singh, Textile Conservation Consultant, Founder Member and Chief Editor TCRC, New Delhi.

On day one workshop began with an inaugural ceremony. In which Dr. Ashok Gupta, Vice Chancellor, IIS (Deemed to be University) Jaipur extended warm welcome to all the resource persons, delegates and participants and threw light on the importance and relevance of the workshop. After this Dr. Anamika Pathak highlighted the importance of preserving textiles for historic interest. She also explained the aesthetic appeal and cultural significance the textiles. She explained role of textile as heirloom, art and craft. She mentioned Rajasthan as the “Garh” of textiles because of its rich heritage and culture. In her presentation she showed collection of textiles of Muscum through pictorial presentation to give exposure towards cultural heritage.

After this session, Dr. Simmi Bhagat explained the meaning of conservation with referencce to textile as cultural property. She focused on restoration as a third branch of conservation after preventive and curative treatment. She emphasized on different factors of deterioration like natural and manmade and discussed the factors that cause damages through an example of Calico Museum

Another session was taken by Ms. Smita Singh. The key highlights were on the different factors and causes of deterioration like mechanical, physical and chemical. She gave the condition report for textiles to the participants for getting an idea about the practical procedures of documentation of textiles. This report is used by the conservators in museum to keep record of the objects. She also explained the concept of reactions which can be the cause of degradation of textiles like photochemical and oxidative reactions in the presence of light, humidity and temperature. She also explained how condition reports are produced after detailed examination of the object.

The second day of the workshop begins with the session conducted by Ms. Smita Singh. She addressed on analysis and testing methods for textiles like weave analysis, stitch analysis and digital methods. She explained the method of handling objects which includes folding with the concept of tissue paper padding to resist the object from creases.

This was followed by an overview of curative treatment of textiles. She explained that there are two types of cleaning i.e. mechanical and solvent cleaning were explained. She emphasized the selection of appropriate cleaning method to be used for conservation of textiles either in museum or in personal wardrobe.

She explained the concept of cleaning through pictorial presentation, and demonstration was given. She also showcased the specimen of adhesive coating to the participants for better understanding of object preservation. She also demonstrated the digital tool known as dinolight microscope which is used to take pictures of minute details of the object. This was followed by practical exercise where participants used sponge, brush and vacuum cleaner for cleaning purpose. Thereafter Dr. Simmi Bhagat took a session on stabilization of textiles. In this session she explained the basic stabilization of textile conservation stitches. She demonstrated various stitches and participants tried those stitches on samples.

The sum up the workshop was very useful and meaningful for the participants and delegates. With the help of practical experiences participants were able to understand the importance of valuable textile heritage, handling the museum

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

IIS (Deemed to be University), Jaipur is among the pioneers in the State of Rajasthan in imparting high quality education to women in different streams. It is known for excellence in delivering value-based education to students and encourages them to think innovatively in different walks of life. It particularly focuses on preparing students to become world ready citizens, who are abreast to take any professional and social challenges with an educated and empowered mind.

About Centre for Research, Innovation and Training (CRIT)

Research, Innovation and Training are an integral part of the development of an institution of higher education. The quality of research and development being pursued and promoted at such institutions is indicative of their commitment to quality, and for ensuring significant research outcomes. For this purpose, the University has established the Centre for Research, Innovation and Training (CRIT) in the year 2013 with an aim to giving impetus to research by way of workshops, seminars and conferences to train and encourage students as well as faculty members to take up research-based activities. The Centre endeavours to do so by facilitating and monitoring research-based initiatives by organizing periodic trainings in new and emerging research areas. In sum, CRIT attempts to identify and tap inter and multi disciplinary research prospects for fostering a robust learning environment on campus.

ABOUT WORKSHOP

G Suite is a cloud based suite of software products developed by Google. It was launched on August 28, 2006 as "Google Apps for Your Domain". G Suite comprises Gmail, Hangouts, Calendar, and Google+ for communication, Drive for storage, Docs, Sheets, Slides, Forms and Sites for collaboration and depending on the plan, an Admin panel and Vault for managing users and the services. It also includes the digital interactive whiteboard, Jamboard and the app development platform App Maker. "G-Suite Apps for Education" consist of messaging, collaboration and classroom apps with Google powered search and critical security features, specifically designed to keep the data safe and secure. Considering the growing importance of online data sharing and collaborative working using G Suite, this workshop is very crucial for the faculty and research scholars of all discipline. The Google G-Suite workshop will equip students, research scholar, academics and professionals with the functionalities and automation capabilities of Google's Cloud Office Suite. It will give them an opportunity to acquire the required skills to handle and share their information that can be accessed from secured centralized platform via Google Drive. Workshop will also provide training in creating Google documents and files, spreadsheets, presentations and online forms with a structured view of the results with features like Docs, Sheets, Slides and Forms. The workshop also aims to expose the educators and students to online learning through Google Learning Centre.

ABOUT JAIPUR

Jaipur, the pink city of Rajasthan is famous for its unique Architecture, Vastu, Astrology, Forts, Monuments, Palaces, Art and Crafts, Culture and food. Here tradition, antiquity and the old charm of the bygone era mingle seamlessly with modernity and technology. This fascinating city with its romantic charm of history and a touch of modernity is sure to mesmerize you. Date: 23 July 2019

Head: IIT Bombay Remote Center

We have received an invitation from IIT Bombay to participate in the workshops for Teachers on "Linux" conducted under the project 'Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya National Mission on Teachers and Teaching' (PMMNMTT), funded by the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India. There will be two workshops: coordinator workshop and main workshop.

Following are the dates for the two workshops:

Coordinator Workshop (1 day): Saturday, 2 August 2019 at nearby Remote Center- IIS need to nominate one Teacher as a course coordinator to attend this workshop. As IIS RC has already conducted the Koha and Moodle workshop, then a teacher coordinator has to attend the Coordinators' workshop, only briefly, that too, through A-VIEW. The course fee for the Coordinators' workshop is Rs. 200/-, which has to be paid at the time of online registration. IIT Bombay will provide participation certificate for this workshop.

IIT Bombay will pay Rs. 2,000 as an honorarium to the following two people, from each participating remote centre: (1) RCC (2) Teacher, who is the Course Coordinator. In addition to the above, Rs. 1,000 as an honorarium to RC support/technical staff. In this way, each participating RC will receive a total of Rs. 5,000 from IIT Bombay

Main Workshop (1 day): Friday, 24 August 2019 at RC- Teachers from nearby colleges and schools to attend at the participating RC through A-VIEW. The teacher coordinator and remote center coordinator will coordinate this workshop at the remote center. The participants of the main workshop are required to pay Rs 100 to IIT Bombay and Rs 400 to remote center for arrangement of lunch and tea/snacks. Duration of workshop is 6 hours. There will be about 4 hours available for training and 2 hours for interactions

Kindly allow IIS remote center to participate in these workshops. Also, kindly appoint a teacher coordinator from the given panel to attend the coordinator workshop and a technical staff to handle AVIEW interactions.

June 17, 2019

Dear Sir/ Madam,

IIS (Deemed to be University), Jaipur, Remote Centre of IIT Bombay outreach programme is organizing one day workshop on the "Python" for Industry Professionals to be held on Saturday, 22 June 2019 from 9.30 AM to 6.00 PM, in collaboration with IIT Bombay, conducted under the Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya National Mission on Teachers and Teaching (PMMNMTT), MHRD, Government of India. This workshop will be conducted through a blended mode, using both live video conferencing facility (A-VIEW) and Hands-on sessions at remote centers.

Python is a very versatile and easy to-learn programming language with an extensive library of open tools allowing users to solve a variety of problems. Python has a rich ecosystem of libraries and tools for scientific computing and data science. There are libraries that provide a powerful interactive computing environment both on the console as well as on a web-browser. Python can interface relatively easily with other well-established languages like FORTRAN/C and C++. In addition to this Python also has a library to build user interfaces, build web applications, interface to hardware, and a whole host of other domains. This makes Python an excellent language to learn opening up a world of possibilities to users who desire to use their computers more effectively.

Participants will learn 'Python' by listening to spoken tutorial and practicing them on Python software at remote center (IIS University, Jaipur). There will be live interaction between the participants at the Remote centers and experts at IIT Bombay.

Interested industry professionals can register online by creating user account on <https://www.it.iitb.ac.in/nmeict> and making online payment of Rs.600/- to IIT Bombay and offline payment of Rs 400/- to the remote center (IIS University, Jaipur) for A-VIEW interaction session. The payment to the remote center IIS University, Jaipur may be made via DD in the name of The IIS University payable at Jaipur or by personally depositing the amount at the university reception. Please note the last date of the registration is June 20, 2019 before 12.30 pm. E-certificate will be provided to the participants after successful completion of the workshop. The workshop brochure is attached herewith.

For any further queries, free to contact course coordinator: Dr Navneet Sharma (mobile no: 9783307146).

Thanking you,

Yours Sincerely,

Workshop on Python

22 June 2019

Timings: 9:30-6:00

A one day workshop was organized by IIS University, Jaipur, a Remote Centre of IIT Bombay outreach programme, in collaboration with IIT Bombay on the "Python" under the Train 10,000 Teachers (T10KT) programme, sponsored by the National Mission on Education through ICT (NMEICT), Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India to be held on Saturday, 22 June 2019 from 9.30 AM to 6.00 PM. The workshop was conducted through a blended mode, using both live video conferencing facility (A-VII:W) and Hands-on sessions at the remote centre. Prof. Kannan Moudgalya was the main coordinator of the workshop. He is the principal investigator of PMMMNMITT and Spoken Tutorial Project. At IIS remote center workshop was coordinated by Dr Navneet Sharma and Mr Harvansh Singh.

There were 27 teachers (7 in-house and 20 outside) who attended the workshop. The technical sessions were conducted by the system administrators Mr. Harvansh Singh, who demonstrated the installation of python on Ubuntu Linux using Virtual Box and Dr. Navneet Sharma who provided an overview of Python software and focused on self learning of the management through spoken tutorials.

Python is a very versatile and easy-to-learn programming language with an extensive library of open tools allowing users to solve a variety of problems. Dear Sir, IIS (Deemed to be University), Jaipur, a Remote Centre of IIT Bombay outreach programme is organizing a one day workshop on the "Scilab" for Teachers and System Administrators to be held on Friday, 4 May 2019 from 9.30 AM to 6.00 PM, in collaboration with IIT Bombay, conducted under the aegis of 'Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya National Mission on Teachers and Teaching'(PMMNMTT)', funded by the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India. This workshop will be conducted through a blended mode, using both live video conferencing facility (A-VIEW) and Hands-on sessions at the remote centre.

Scilab is a Free/Libre and Open Source Software (FLOSS), created mainly for numerical computations. It uses the state of the art numerical libraries, such as LINPACK, EISPACK and LAPACK, and hence, its results are highly reliable. Scilab implements the user friendly language, similar to the one used in the popular software Matlab. But unlike Matlab, Scilab can be freely downloaded, freely copied, freely modified and also freely distributed. Naturally, Scilab can be used absolutely free of cost, unlike Matlab, which can be extremely expensive, especially to the industry. Scilab comes with a graphical programming interface Xcos, which is similar to Simulink. A good knowledge of Scilab will help improve the employment potential of your students. The FOSSEE (Free/Libre and Open Source Software for Education) project at IIT Bombay (<https://fossee.in>) has been promoting Scilab, and other FLOSS software, such as Python, OpenFOAM, eSim, Osdag, OpenModelica, DWSIM & R, and Open Source hardware, such as Arduino and OpenPLC. FOSSEE is also funded by NMEICT, MHRD.

Participants will learn 'Scilab' by listening to Spoken Tutorial and practicing them on Scilab software at the remote centre (IIS University, Jaipur). There will be live interactions between the participants at the Remote Centres and experts at IIT Bombay.

Interested Teachers can register online on <http://www.it.iitb.ac.in/nmeict/announcements.html> by making online payment of Rs.100/- to IIT Bombay and offline payment of Rs 400/- to the remote centre (IIS University, Jaipur) for A-VIEW interaction session. The payment to the remote centre IIS University, Jaipur may be made via DD in the name of The IIS University payable at Jaipur or by personally depositing the amount at the university reception. Please note the last date of the registration is 30 April 2019 before 12:30 p.m. E-certificate will be provided to the participants by IIT Bombay after successful completion of the workshop. The workshop brochure is attached herewith.

For any further queries, you may contact course coordinator: Dr Surendra Kumar Agarwal (mobile no: 9772204403).

Workshop on Scilab for Faculty Members

4 May 2019

A one day workshop was organized by IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur, a Remote Centre of IIT Bombay outreach programme, in collaboration with IIT Bombay on the "Scilab" under the project National Virtual Library of India which is an initiative of the Ministry of Culture, Government of India. The workshop was conducted on Saturday, 4 May 2019 from 9.30 AM to 6.00 PM through a blended mode, using both live video conferencing facility (A-VIEW) and Hands-on sessions at the remote centre.

There were 32 teachers who attended the workshop. The practical sessions were conducted by the teacher coordinator Dr. Surendra Kumar Agarwal, who provided an overview of spoken tutorial software and focused on self learning of the management of Scilab through spoken tutorials. Scilab is a Free/Libre and Open Source Software (FLOSS), created mainly for numerical computations. It uses the state of the art numerical libraries, such as LINPACK, EISPACK and LAPACK, and hence, its results are highly reliable. Scilab implements the user friendly language, similar to the one used in the popular software Matlab

Thus, Scilab can be readily configured to the needs of teachers from science and engineering streams. The workshop proved to be very informative and it will certainly help in academic development.

The Department of Home Science organised a one day "FSSAI FOSTAC TRAINING" on 15th May 2019 for the final year students of BSc (PC), BSc (hons) Home Science and MSc (Foods and Nutrition), faculty of the department and non-teaching staff.

The trainer was Mr Vikash Kumar Gautam, Trainer and Auditor, FSSAI (Food Safety and Standards Authority of India), New Delhi. The speaker was welcomed with floral greetings by Dr. Ila Joshi, Professor & Head, Department of Home Science. Thirty six students and staff members enrolled for the training. The training was titled 'Food safety supervisor- Manufacturing (Hygienic and sanitary practices for food general manufacturing, Advanced level II'. Training started at 9:00 am. The training was divided into four sessions, which were further subdivided into sections covering the various aspects of the training like food safety, pest control, control of operations, food testing, audit, product information, FSMS planning etc. the sessions were interactive wherein the queries of the participants were answered. There were short breaks in between the sessions for tea and lunch.

An exam was conducted at the end of the training in order to assess the learning and for providing certificate of the training. Feedback forms were also filled at the end. The participants gained a lot of information from the training.

Mini Workshop on Public Speaking

Venue: Vinayak Hall, IISU

Time 10:30am-12:30pm

Date: April 20, 2019

Second batch of mini-workshop on Public Speaking was organized by The IIS (Deemed to be University) on April 20, 2019, in the Vinayak Hall which was attended by 92 faculty members across various disciplines of the university. The resource person invited for the same was Prof. K. Ramnarayan who is presently the Chairperson of Manipal University, Jaipur and Vice - President, Faculty Development, Manipal Academy of Higher Education at Manipal Karnataka. Prof. Ramnarayan has been associated with the Manipal group for over four decades for different academic and leadership positions.

After the formal welcome and introduction by Dr. Radhika Sharma, the resource person of the workshop, Prof. Ramnarayan addressed the participants. He explicitly explained and demonstrated the three pivotal stages that one should consider while preparing a public speech, namely, preparation, platform performance and excellence. He dealt with each aspect in detail with real-life examples.

Prof. K. Ramnarayan explained the do's and do not's on the various aspects of public speaking like introduction of a speaker, how to welcome and introduce a chief guest in a formal function, essentials of welcome speech and Vote of Thanks. He also gave a sample speech and some speech plans which would help the participants in preparing their speeches. The handouts were provided to all the participants.

Towards the close of the session, Prof. Ramnarayan highlighted the thirteen commandments that should be followed by the Master of Ceremonies on any occasion of public speech. The workshop concluded with a formal vote of thanks to by Dr. Princy Thomas.

Workshop on Moodle Learning Management System

15 March 2019

A one day workshop was organized by IIS University, Jaipur, a Remote Centre of IIT Bombay outreach programme, in collaboration with IIT Bombay on the "Moodle Learning Management System" under the Train 10,000 Teachers (T10KT) programme, sponsored by the National Mission on Education through ICT (NMEICT), Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India to be held on Friday, 15 March 2019 from 9.30 AM to 6.00 PM. The workshop was conducted through a blended mode, using both live video conferencing facility (A-VIEW) and Hands-on sessions at the remote centre. Prof. Kannan Moudgalya was the main coordinator of the workshop. He is the principal investigator of PMMMNMTT and Spoken Tutorial Project. At IIS remote center workshop was coordinated by Dr Amita Sharma and Mr Harvansh Singh.

There were 40 teachers and system administrators (30 in-house and 10 outside) who attended the workshop. The technical sessions were conducted by the system administrators Mr. Harvansh Singh, who demonstrated the installation of Moodle on Ubuntu Linux using Virtual Box and Dr. Amita Sharma who provided an overview of Moodle Learning Management software and focused on self learning of the management of Moodle through spoken tutorials.

Moodle is a learning management system (LMS in short) which helps teachers and educators create online courses for more adaptive and customized learning. Developed in 2002, it is a free and open source software and is being used by many small and large institutions to create and deliver courses online to their students. It was concluded that Moodle supports many built-in features ranging from the basics such as file upload, assignments, quizzes, notifications and advanced features such as forums, quizzes, wiki, etc. It also has many easy-to-install plug-ins such as attendance, reminders, analytics etc. to supplement these features. The workshop proved to be very informative and it will certainly help in academic development.

Head: IIT Bombay Remote Center

We have received an invitation from IIT Bombay to conduct (via AVIEW) one day workshop on "Open Source Library Software Koha" to be held on 9 March 2019 at the remote center. The participants of the workshop are required to pay Rs 100 to IIT Bombay and Rs 400 to remote center. Kindly allow IIS remote center to participate in this workshop.

The last "Koha" workshop was coordinated by Dr Sonal Jain and Mr. Harvansh Singh at the IIS remote center held on 12 Oct 2018. They have also attended the coordinators' workshop (Open Source Library Software Koha) held on 29 Sept 2018 at IIT Bombay campus.

Kindly appoint Dr Sonal Jain and Mr. Harvansh Singh as the coordinators for the same.

Submit for approval.

Wokshop on Koha and Library Automation

9 March 2019

A one day workshop was organized by IIS University, Jaipur, a Remote Centre of IIT Bombay outreach programme, in collaboration with IIT Bombay on the “Open Source Library Software Koha” under the project National Virtual Library of India which is an initiative of the Ministry of Culture, Government of India to be held on Saturday, 9 March 2019 from 9.30 AM to 6.00 PM.

The workshop was conducted through a blended mode, using both live video conferencing facility (A-VIEW) and Hands-on sessions at the remote centre.

There were 11 library professionals who attended the workshop. The technical sessions were conducted by the system administrators Mr. Harvansh Singh, who demonstrated the installation of Koha on windows and Ubuntu Linux using Virtual Box and Dr. Sonal Jain who provided an overview of Koha the library management software and focused on self learning of the management of Koha through spoken tutorials.

It was concluded that Koha supports all library housekeeping activities such as Acquisition, Cataloging, Circulation, Serial Control, Patron Management, and OPAC. It also supports Web 2.0 tools. Thus, Koha can be readily configured to the needs of each library and is updated with new features frequently. The workshop proved to be very informative and it will certainly help in academic development.

Mini Workshop on Public Speaking – 16 February 2019

A mini workshop on Public Speaking was organized by The IIS University on February 16, 2019 in the Vinayak Hall which was attended by 122 faculty members from various disciplines of the university. The resource person invited for the same was Dr. K. Ramnarayan, Chairperson (Chancellor) of Manipal University, Jaipur, who has been associated with the Manipal group for over four decades for different academic and leadership positions. After the floral welcome and introduction of the speaker, Dr. Ramnarayan began with a detailed discussion on the three stages of preparing for a public speech (preparation, platform performance and excellence) and the postures, gestures, vocabulary selection, language, word accent, intonation etc. to be kept in mind during deliverance of any public speech. Through some handouts on the do's and don'ts of various speeches like welcome speech, introduction of a guest speaker, vote of thanks etc., the speaker emphasized that brevity and listing are two important aspects to be kept in mind while speaking. The detailed explanation of the contents of various speech plans like the explication speech, the descending speech, the non-committal speech etc. will certainly help the participants to prepare for any such public speaking opportunities in future. Towards the close of the session, the speaker highlighted the thirteen commandments that should be followed by the Master of Ceremonies on any occasion of public speech. The workshop ended with a formal vote of thanks to Dr. Ramnarayan.

Three-Day Workshop on “Japanese Woodblock Printmaking by Kenji Najima” and “Demonstration cum artist talk on Chine- Colle by Tomoyohaya”

The Department of Visual Arts organized a three-day workshop on “Japanese Woodblock Printmaking by Kenji Najima” and “Demonstration cum artist talk on Chine- Colle by Tomoyohaya”. The workshop was from 25 -27 February, 2019 from 10 am to 4 pm Visual Arts Department of IIS University Campus, Mansarovar, Jaipur. Kenji Najima and Tomoyohaya were the artists invited from Japan for their demonstration. Born in 1968 at Mie, Kenji Najima is a Japanese Printmaker who has held many solo and group shows Internationally. His work has been appreciated and has featured on the book covers of many Japanese writers. His works are displayed in many Japanese Museums like the Fukuoka Art Museum, Kurbo City Art Gallery, The Museum of Modern Art Wakayama and others. Kenji Najima works on woodblock plates and prints them with a baren, a hand tool with flat bottom used in Japanese woodblock printmaking on handmade Japanese paper using watercolor pigments. In this workshop, Japanese artist Kenji Najima displayed his prints, discussed his works’ subject, technique and process and demonstrated how to create water-based wood block print. Students of Department and faculties participated in this workshop and interacted with the artist who generously elaborated his technique to the students.

The printmaking studio of Visual Arts Department of IIS University Campus, Mansarovar, Jaipur on 27th February 2019 was bustling with young artists on Wednesday when Canada-based Japanese artist Tomoyohaya shared with them a special technique of graphic art in the morning. The printmaker demonstrated techniques of Chine Colle graphic art. The usual intaglio style of printmaking involves the incision of the required image on a metal plate on which ink is applied and then imprinted on a thick paper. In the Chine Colle method, the paper used is of a smoother and thinner variety. The artist does not need to prepare and print additional plates. “This is an Italian technique in which the image produced is creamier and has special effects of smoother textures. Since initially Chinese natural fiber paper was used, the method is known as Chine Colle. But now, a Japanese paper, gampi, made from a variety of wild mulberry plants, is used,” said Tomoyo. She demonstrated how the same image when produced on gampi has sharper details than on European paper. Students also tried their hand at it and Tomoyo guided them well. It was an exceptional experience for the students. Tomoyo shared her drawing and painting concepts during a deliberation on the same day in evening at the same venue. Printmaking and etching are her forte, for which she is acclaimed worldwide. She put on show her experiences in the past visits in India through her drawings (drawing a cremation site in Varanasi, documenting fire pits, cremation alters, and contemplating on life and death around fire) synchronized with this particular movement, an extreme way of ‘offering’ their bodies to ‘fire’ for asking freedom and peace. Much of her art speaks to deprivation, oppression, lost homelands, escapes and exile. She has developed her own iconography to convey compassion for this misery. Frequent symbols are legs (often truncated at the knee - eyes, fires, tear drops and empty bowls. At times, she even burns small holes in her paper with incense sticks. Her latest exhibition, Eyes Water Fire, at Art Beatus in Vancouver until Nov. 25, is another paean to compassion. Delicately drawn icons, sometimes painted in gentle tones, elicit a visceral response. Blue legs, for instance, “cross the borders on snow-covered mountains or swim across the ocean,” says Ihaya, or, flames awash in red declare “resistance and dignity or lights of prayers.”

NOTICE

The two day workshop on 'Principles & Practices of Effective Student Assessment' for faculty members of Commerce & Management will be held on 14-15 December, 2018. The tentative Programme Sheet of the workshop is attached with this mail. It is compulsory for all the faculty members (Full Time & Part Time) of Science to attend the same. Kindly note the following instructions regarding the workshop.

1. Teaching will remain suspended on 14th-15th December, 2018 for Commerce & Management group.

Date	Dress Code	Reporting Time
14-12-2018	Day Code Uniform	9:00 a.m.
15-12-2018	Day Code Uniform	9:00 a.m.

3. The Workshop will start with Inaugural Ceremony at 9:30 a.m. sharp. (Invitation Card attached)

4. Staff members are expected to sit through the entire duration of the workshop.

5. The staff will be provided light refreshment and tea on both the days.

Two day Workshop on “Principles and Practices of Effective Student Assessment” for the Faculty of Commerce & Management

Inaugural Session

The IIS (deemed to be University) organized a two- day workshop on “Principles & Practices of Effective Student Assessment” for the Faculty of Commerce and Management on 14-15 December, 2018.

The inaugural session of the two day workshop was conducted by Dr. Deepika Singh, Head, Department of Tourism Management. The session commenced with a formal welcome of the dignitaries and participants of the workshop. It was followed by Saraswati Vandana and lighting of the lamp by hon'ble Vice –Chancellor, Dr. Ashok Gupta, Registrar, Dr. Raakhi Gupta, Dean, Faculty of Commerce and Management, Prof. M.K. Sharma and resource persons Prof. Ramanarayan, Chairman, Manipal University and Dr. Prashanti Echapati, Associate Professor, Manipal University, Malaysia.

In the welcome note, Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Ashok Gupta welcomed the esteemed resource persons and expressed admiration and gratitude for their gesture of sharing knowledge and experience. The keynote address was delivered by Prof. Ramnarayan, which was on ‘Resurrecting the vanishing art of lecturing’. He classified the different kinds of lecturers, and opined that the ideal lecturer is a ‘Facilitator’, who actually focuses on facilitating learning among the students. In his thought provoking address he also discussed about the various myths among teachers associated with lectures. He asked the teachers to PROFESS, BE ORGANISED, AVOID MONOLOGUES if they want to prepare and deliver effective lectures to their students. Prof. Ramnarayan summed up his address with an interesting experiment depicting how a teacher needs to assess the state of the students mind and deliver lecture to a student, accordingly.

Session 1: “HARMONY (Integrating the basic components of the educational process)”

The first session after the tea break was taken by Dr. Prashanti Echapati, Associate Professor, Manipal University, Malaysia on Harmony (Integrating the basic components of the educational process).

IIS (deemed to be University)
Mansarovar, Jaipur-302020

Dr. Echapati discussed that most of the teachers today focus on 'HOW TO TEACH' whereas their focus should be on 'HOW TO LEARN'. It is important for a teacher to become conscious that they are giving knowledge to their students. It is only then that students actually receive knowledge which ultimately leads to actual learning in the class.

She also discussed about the essential components of learning where a teacher should set learning objective based on curriculum. A teacher should also work on his/ her method of delivery which can enhance the learning of a student. And lastly, assessment should be based on three levels viz. knowledge, skill and attitude.

Session 2: "OXYGEN, HYDROGEN, HALOGEN, ANDROGEN (Fundamentals of objective assessment)"

The session was conducted by Prof. K Ramnarayan, Chairperson-Manipal University, Jaipur & Vice President Faculty Development, Manipal Academy of Higher Education. The session focused on art of composing Objective Type Questions. The popularity of multiple choice questions due to its non biasness, definitive answers and consistent marking was emphasized in the session. Prof Ramnarayan highlighted the effective ways to and commonly made mistakes during the construction of such questions. The structure of an MCQ was also discussed in great detail.

Session 3: "ASSESSMENT FOR LEARNING (Introduction to formative assessment)"

This session was conducted by Dr. Prashanti Echapati. The session focused on the fact that the assessment should be done in a manner which evaluates the learning of the students and not the memory power of the students. The session covered various do's and dont's which a teacher should remember while doing the assessment. The resource person focused on the various aspects of formative assessment and acquainted the gathering with different forms of formative assement techniques.

The session went very well in order to learn the assessment of students' learning in an effective manner.

Session 4: "DIPSTICKS TO FATHOM STUDENTS' UNDERSTANDING (Formative assessment strategies)"

The fourth session of the workshop was on "Dipsticks to fathom students' understanding" (Formative assessment strategies) and was taken by Prof. Prashanti Eachempati. She explained the importance and benefits of using dipsticks in classroom teaching to make the class more interactive. She further conducted some exercises to make the participants (faculty members) understand how to apply appropriate dipstick on the basis of topic to be taught. She explained 44 different dipsticks which can be used in class. She also described the use of various software to make dipsticks more interesting and understandable.

Session 5: "RECOLLECTION (Recapturing the Important Concepts)"

Day 2 started with the recollection of previous day sessions. It was started with an activity; consist of giving an idea or a thought concept pertaining to the day 1. All the participants actively contributed. It was like a dipstick to make a class settle and also to recollect the previous day thoughts.

The session went very well involving all the participants and also gives us the time to settle down without creating any disturbance in the class.

After the recollection Dr. Prashanti continued the next session – "CONGENIAL CLASSROOM CLIMATE" focusing on Social climate inside the classroom by creating a room inside the mind of the students to make the class more interesting and participating.

Session 6: "CONGENIAL CLASSROOM CLIMATE (Creating condition conducive to learning)"

Prof. Prashanti started the session with a beautiful song- 'aa chalke tujhe...' that made everybody reconnect with her and tune into for the next day.

Prof. Prashanti explained the term "Congenial climate" as gentle, cordial and safe environment that facilitates student's learning.

The session was divided into three parts comprising of-

1. What not to do?
2. What to do?
3. How to measure?

Registrar
IIS (deemed to be University)
Mansarovar, Jaipur-302029

In the first part of the session, Prof. Prashanti discussed twenty follies and foibles that affect learning environment in the class and hence should be not be practiced. She emphasized the mistakes which teachers generally commit in the classroom thereby creating an unsafe and non congenial climate. Handouts were given to all the participants wherein all the points were covered elaborately along with suitable examples.

In the second session, Prof. Prashanti emphasized on the points that help in creating congenial classroom climate. Seven principles of good practices, RAPPOR (Relationship, Approachability, Patience, Positive Re-enforcement, Open Communication, Respect and Trust) were discussed. This was followed by the discussion on 5 I's of co-operative learning. They are- Interdependence, Interaction, Inter-personal skills, Individual Accountability and Internalization. In the last part of the session, Prof Prashanti taught the participants certain mathematical calculations for measuring congenial classroom climate. She discussed difficulty index and Discriminating index as the tools for measuring the same. She clarified the concept with an example wherein all the participants did the calculations and interpreted the results.

Session 7: "OBJECTIVITY IN SUBJECTIVITY (Framing and assessing essay questions)"

This session was taken by Dr K Ramnarayan and was titled as "Assay of the Essay". He highlighted the need and relevance of Essay type questions even though they are criticized for the subjectivity involved. Following three models of Essay type questions were discussed in the session-

1. Extended response essay
2. Restricted response essay
3. Very restricted response essay

To reduce the subjectivity in Essay type questions, Prof Ramnarayan gave the following guidelines-

1. Discussing the marking scheme-For improving the reliability of Essay type questions he gave 4 C's of marking scheme i.e Correct, complete, clean and Creative.
2. Increasing the number of evaluators.

It was an informative session and involved active participation from all the participants

Session 8: "ITEM ANALYSIS (Titrating the quality of MCQs)"

The session was conducted by Dr. Prashanti Eachempati. Prior to setting the paper a checklist should be prepared and after satisfying all the prerequisites, one should proceed to the next step which is administering the question paper. From the declared results a good teacher can analyse the difficulty index and discrimination index for each question. Beforehand, the teacher can check the difficulty level of question paper, differentiation among competent and incompetent students and distracters- non functional, plausible or dummy variables. After the analysis of question paper teacher has to interpret the results and discuss the outcomes amongst peer group. This may help them to give an effective feedback to students too. Item writing flaws include- use of dummy variables, selection of wrong answers, more than one best answer, reframing of stem, etc. Three actions which can be taken after analysis consist of retaining the question, revising or reframing the question or removing the question.

The session went very well in order to learn the assessment of students' learning in an effective manner.

Session 9: "BEYOND RECALL"

Session's name was Beyond Recall. The Session was presented by Prof. K. Ramnarayan , Chairperson -Manipal University Jaipur & Vice President-Faculty Development, Manipal Academy of Higher Education. He was discussing about the awareness and understanding when we are going to set a question paper. He talked about learning ladder, which contains five steps – awareness, understanding, trial, acceptance and Practice. He told us about some facts which we keep in our mind before setting a question paper. For example – how to prepare MCQ of higher order, level of difficulty is important but not every time.

He explained us that multiple choice questions should cover all levels of knowledge domain like Recalling, Interpretation and Problem solving level. He taught us that when we are making MCQ's, all stress should not be on only Recalling level or Analysis level or Problem solving level. All faculty members were enriched by the knowledge of this session on Beyond Recall.

Session 10: "BLUEPRINT FOR ASSESSMENT (Setting a Question Paper)"

In this session, Prof. K Ramnarayan provided the faculties with some specific guidelines on how to set up a question paper. For this, the use of a specification table was explained which can be used to test the balance of different levels of questions i.e. recall, interpretation and problem solving questions in the entire syllabus. It was a very enriching session and provided a proper guidelines for setting up of a balanced question paper.

DEAR COLLEAGUE On behalf of the organizing committee, it is an honour to invite you to attend the National Workshop on Basic Applied Econometrics to be held on 26-30 December, 2018.

IIS (deemed to be University) IIS (deemed to be University) is an exceptionally cosmopolitan and vibrant university based in one of the country's most exciting and ethnically rich cities – the Pink City. It is known for the excellence in the student centered learning and is dedicated and equally qualified to prepare the students to become the World's next generation of creative leadership.

Amongst the thirty eight deemed to be universities in India placed in the category 'A' by Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, it is a progressive institution that has blazed trails since its inception almost two decades ago as the International College for Girls (ICG). Within a short span of being granted an autonomous status by UGC in 2007, the college was declared deemed to be a university in 2009. IIS (deemed to be University) has also been accredited by NAAC and included u/s 12B by the UGC. The university is committed to promote quality education, research and innovation. The University offers a wide array of semester based undergraduate, post graduate and research programmes which make for a robust academic environment.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS Established in 1995, the Department of Economics at IIS (deemed to be University) has been one of the most progressive departments attracting students from within and outside Rajasthan. Our innovative curriculum across both our undergraduate and postgraduate programmes provides an outstanding training in economics which is both intellectual and professional. The department also offers M.Phil. and Ph.D. programmes. The research at the department aims to yield new and cutting-edge insight to improve economic well-being, and to educate the next generation of leaders on business, government, and academic inquiry. In the past, the Department of Economics has organized a National Conference on India's Economic Policy & Development Initiatives: Challenges & Opportunities on 4-5 November, 2016 at IIS University, Jaipur. In this conference, prominent economists like Prof. Amitabh Kundu, JNU, Prof. V.V. Singh, Director NITI Aayog Chair, Prof. Pranab Banerji, IIPA, Prof Pulin B. Nayak, DSE, Prof N.R. Bhanumurthy, NIPFP, Prof P.K. Chaubey, IIPA, Prof Ganesh Kawadiya, Devi Ahilya University, Indore etc gave their deliberations on recent development initiatives.

ABOUT JAIPUR Jaipur, the Pink City of India, is the starting point for the visitors of Rajasthan. The Capital of Rajasthan, Jaipur, casts an unusual spell on the travellers with its royal palaces, forts and monuments, revealing a historic past of chivalrous warriors, aristocratic royal ladies, art & craft, literature & science. Moreover handicrafts like miniature paintings, textiles, blue pottery and jewellery make it a shopper's paradise.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP Econometrics is the application of statistical methods to economic data and is described as the branch of economics that aims to give empirical content to economic relations. More precisely, it is "the quantitative analysis of actual economic phenomena based on the concurrent development of theory and observation, related by appropriate methods of inference".

Applied econometrics uses theoretical econometrics and real-world data for assessing economic theories, developing econometric models, analyzing economic history, and forecasting.

EViews is an easy-to-use, Windows-based statistical analysis package employed worldwide by economists, financial analysts, market researchers, and policy analysts. EViews supports these researchers in a wide range of tasks, from analyzing economic and financial data, building models and "what if" scenarios, to conducting research and teaching econometrics, and estimating the impact of new policies or major investment changes.

Considering the growing importance of applied econometrics and particularly the use of EViews this workshop is very crucial for the faculty and research scholars of economics, as it will give them an opportunity to acquire the required skills to handle this challenging subject efficiently and with confidence.

WORKSHOP OBJECTIVES

1. To provide an opportunity to various participants from academia to make use of applied econometrics for assessing economic theories and developing econometric models with the help of EViews software.
2. To help the researchers in a wide range of tasks, from analyzing economic and financial data to conducting research and teaching econometrics and estimating the impact of new policies or major investment changes.

The day wise schedule of the sessions of the workshops is as follows -

Day 1 (Basic Statistics Required for Econometrics)

- Session 1: Introduction and Basic Concepts
- Session 2: Estimation: Estimators, Properties and Related Concepts
- Session 3: Hypothesis Testing: Various Distributions, Testing, Related Concepts
- Session 4: Practicals: Introduction to E views

Day 2 (Simple Regression)

- Session 1: The Classical Linear Regression Model
- Session 2: Estimators: Properties, Distribution,  $R^2$
- Session 3: Other Functional Forms
- Session 4: Practicals using Eviews: OLS Estimation, Interpretation etc

Day 3 (Simple & Multiple Regression)

- Session 1: Regression diagnostics: Consequences of violation of Assumptions, Tests, Remedies
- Session 2: Multiple Regression 1
- Session 3: Multiple Regression 2
- Session 4: Practicals

Day 4 (Multiple Regression & Binary Dependent Variable)

- Session 1: Multiple Regression 3
- Session 2: Linear Probability, Logit, Probit
- Sessions 3 & 4: Practicals, Cases, Discussion

Day 5 (Time series)

- Session 1: Distributed Lags, Their Problems, Causality
- Session 2: Spurious Regression, Stationarity, VAR(Introduction)
- Sessions 3 & 4: Practicals, Summing up, Looking Ahead

National Workshop on Basic Applied Econometrics
26- 30 December 2018

The Department of Economics of the IIS (deemed to be University) organized a five day National Workshop on Basic Applied Econometrics from 26th to 30th December 2018. The resource person for the workshop was Prof. Pranab Banerji (Retd. Professor) IIPA, New Delhi. Prof. Banerji has been associated with Jawaharlal Nehru University, IIM Rohtak, NTPC Business School, Noida and School of Planning & Architecture, New Delhi. 52 Participants from various institutions like Central University, Gujarat; Ram Manohar Lohiya University, Lucknow; IIM, Kashipur; University of Rajasthan etc attended this workshop. An opportunity to understand applied econometrics particularly with the use of EVIEWS software enhanced the importance of this workshop. It provided a necessary platform to the participants to acquire the skills to handle this challenging subject with confidence. 18 sessions were conducted on various topics like regression model- assumptions and estimation, use of dummy variables, concepts related to time series and panel data etc. The workshop will prove immensely helpful to researchers in analyzing economic and financial data and developing econometric models with the help of EVIEWS software.

REPORT ON

National Workshop on Basic Applied Econometrics

26-30 December 2018

The Department of Economics of IIS (deemed to be University) organized a five-day National Workshop on Basic Applied Econometrics from 26-30 December, 2018. It was attended by 52 participants including students, research scholars and faculty members. Each day of the workshop consisted of four sessions from 10 am to 4 pm with intermittent breaks for a refreshing breakfast, lunch and tea.

The first day of the workshop began with a welcome note by Dr. Anima Vaish, Organizing Secretary of the workshop. She also introduced the resource person of the workshop, Prof. Pranab Banerji, who was associated with the Indian Institute of Public Administration (IIPA) as Professor of Economics from 2001 to 2015. He was welcomed by the Vice Chancellor, Dr. Ashok Gupta with a memento. Dr. Gupta stressed on the growing importance of econometrics in various arenas of academic studies. He then invited Prof. Banerji to commence the workshop. Prof. Banerji started with a brief introduction of self and an introduction to econometrics. Econometrics is a discipline based on application of statistical techniques for empirical analysis of various theories. He briefly described the plan of the workshop and how it would help in building the foundation of econometrics. With this, the inaugural session came to an end and was followed by refreshments.

After refreshments began the other sessions for the first day, which covered topics like sampling, statistical inference, methods of estimation, desirable properties of estimators and hypothesis testing. In the last session, Prof. Banerji also introduced the popularly used software of econometrics, EViews, which was to be used for the subsequent days of the workshop. The participants learned the user interface of EViews- opening and creating workfile, importing data, generating series, etc.

Day 2 was centered towards bivariate analysis- assumptions of the classical linear regression model, estimation of regression equation, properties of OLS estimators and hypothesis testing of regression coefficients. This was followed by practical session of bivariate regression in EViews.

Registrar

IIS (deemed to be University)
Mansarovar, Jaipur-302020

The focus of Day 3 was on multivariate analysis. The resource person, after a quick recap of the topics covered in the previous day, introduced the multiple linear regression model, its assumptions and interpretations. This was followed by practical exercises on EViews and use of Coefficient Diagnostics, which comprised of Omitted Variable Test, Redundant Variable Test and Wald Test. He also discussed the various criteria of choosing variables in a regression model.

As the foundation of simple and multiple regression models was built in the three days, Day 4 of the workshop was centered on violation of assumptions of the classical linear regression model- the problems of multicollinearity, heteroskedasticity and autocorrelation. Prof. Bancrji dealt with the consequences, detection and remedial measures for each of these problems. The applications of these concepts were covered with practical exercises on EViews.

On the last day of the workshop, the resource person discussed some advanced topics in econometrics namely, endogeneity, instrumental variables and a way forward through Time Series and Panel Data analyses. Time series econometrics evolved during the 1980s as time series data cannot be easily analysed using the traditional methods of econometrics. Prof. Bancrji explained the concepts of stationarity, white noise, spurious regression, cointegration and VAR. He also went over the topics of panel data analysis- the random and fixed effects models. All these concepts were demonstrated using various exercises on EViews.

The workshop drew to a close with a few participants sharing their experiences and insights and thanking the resource person for elucidating the concepts with such innovative examples. Finally, Dr. Anima Vaish concluded with a formal vote of thanks. The workshop thus proved to be a great learning experience for all the participants.

FDP201x: Pedagogy for Online and Blended Teaching - Learning Process

Duration: 25 October-29 November 2018

Course Coordinator & Remote Centre Coordinator : Dr. Amita Sharma
System Administrator : Mr. Harvansh Singh,
AVIEW support : Mr Suresh Nathawat

IIS University has participated as a remote centre in Faculty Development Programme (FDP) conducted by IIT Bombay in a blended MOOC approach (Duration 25 October – 29 November 2018). Online educational methodology and flipped-classrooms with associated pedagogy of active learning has quickly emerged as the mainstay of effective education in this century. This course aimed to provide awareness about Online/Blended Education in Teaching-Learning Process in order to make teaching learning more effective and student centric. The speakers were Prof. Deepak B. Phatak, Dr. Jayakrishnan M, Prof. Prabhakar T V, Prof Sridhar Iyar, Prof Sahana Murthy and Sameer S Sahasrabudhe.

The major course objectives were Designing and Developing a MOOC, Implementing Flipped Classrooms and Pedagogy of Active Learning. During the course, participants learnt the usage of technologies like moodle, to design materials and activities for teaching-learning in their own fields of expertise. The key learning's were:-

1. LMS : Moodle Tool
2. Pedagogy of Active Learning
  - a. Think-Pair-Share
  - b. Peer Instruction
  - c. Collaborative Problem Solving
3. Flipped Classroom
4. Online Course Design

The FDP was divided in to four weeks and participants were graded for knowledge quiz, assimilation quiz, reflection quiz released for each week. Grading was also given for resource creation assignment and lab activities. All the participants were divided into teams for Open Educational Resource (OER) activity which was peer evaluated. The FDP also had AVIEW interaction sessions for lab assignment. These sessions were conducted on 17-18 November 2018 and 24 – 25 November 2018 in Lab D from 9:30- 5:30. During AVIEW session, participants were assigned two lab assignments. They also interacted with participants other remote centers participants via AVIEW software. In this FDP, 38 candidates were registered out of which 36 completed the course successfully. The skills and pedagogy learned in the FDP 201X will help participants to develop a more effective teaching-learning practice in their class rooms.

Head: IIT Bombay Remote Center

We have received an invitation from IIT Bombay to conduct (via AVIEW) one day workshop on "Open Source Library Software Koha" to be held on 9 March 2019 at the remote center. The participants of the workshop are required to pay Rs 100 to IIT Bombay and Rs 400 to remote center. Kindly allow IIS remote center to participate in this workshop.

The last "Koha" workshop was coordinated by Dr Sonal Jain and Mr. Harvansh Singh at the IIS remote center held on 12 Oct 2018. They have also attended the coordinators' workshop (Open Source Library Software Koha) held on 29 Sept 2018 at IIT Bombay campus.

Kindly appoint Dr Sonal Jain and Mr. Harvansh Singh as the coordinators for the same.

Submit for approval.

Workshop on Koha and Library Automation

12 October 2018

A one day workshop was organized by IIS University, Jaipur, a Remote Centre of IIT Bombay outreach programme, in collaboration with IIT Bombay on the "Open Source Library Software Koha" under the project National Virtual Library of India which is an initiative of the Ministry of Culture, Government of India to be held on Friday, 12 October 2018 from 9.30 AM to 6.00 PM.

The workshop was conducted through a blended mode, using both live video conferencing facility (A-VIEW) and Hands-on sessions at the remote centre.

There were 23 library professionals who attended the workshop. The technical sessions were conducted by the system administrators Mr. Harvansh Singh, who demonstrated the installation of Koha on windows and Ubuntu Linux using Virtual Box and Dr. Sonal Jain who provided an overview of Koha the library management software and focused on self learning of the management of Koha through spoken tutorials.

It was concluded that Koha supports all library housekeeping activities such as Acquisition, Cataloging, Circulation, Serial Control, Patron Management, and OPAC. It also supports Web 2.0 tools. Thus, Koha can be readily configured to the needs of each library and is updated with new features frequently. The workshop proved to be very informative and it will certainly help in academic development.

FDP101x: Foundation Programme in ICT for Education

Duration: 13 September-18 October 2018

IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur has participated as a remote centre in Faculty Development Programme (FDP) conducted by IIT Bombay in a blended MOOC approach (Duration 13 Sept to 18 Oct 2018). This course was focused on developing awareness about both technology and effective practices of integrating technology in to teaching-learning. The major course objectives were to identify ICT tools for teaching-learning, bring awareness towards ethical practices for use in ICT education and best practices for information dissemination using ICT. The instructors were Prof. Deepak B. Phatak, Dr. Jayakrishnan M, Prof. Prabhakar T V and Dr. Sameer S Sahasrabudhe from IIT Bombay. Total 41 candidates were registered for FDP out of which 38 were faculty members of IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur. The FDP was divided in to five weeks and participants were graded for knowledge quiz, assimilation quiz, reflection quiz released for each week. Grading was also given for resource creation assignment, lab activities followed by a summative assessment at the end of course. 39 participants enrolled in FDP successfully completed the course.

The key learning's were concept of Learner Centric MOOC model that included incorporation of different pedagogic adaptations like learning dialogues (LeD), learning by doing activity (LbD), reflection stops, learning extension resources, (LxT), learning experience interactions (LxI) and discussion forums in teaching learning. During the course, participants learned the use of wordpress, dropbox, googlecloud, screencast etc., to design resources and activities for teaching-learning in their own subjects. They were able to create their own website using wordpress. Screencast was used to prepare teaching material and upload the same on Moodle site. Week-wise course journal was also prepared and uploaded on wordpress site by each participant. The FDP also had AVIEW interaction session for lab assignment which was conducted on Sunday 7 Oct 2018 in the University campus from 9:30- 5:30. In this session, participants were assigned two lab assignments. They also interacted with participants of other remote centres via AVIEW software. The ICT tools learned in this FDP made participants technology friendly so that they can use them in their day to day teaching learning activities.

NOTICE

The University is organizing a two-day workshop on Principles & Practices of Effective Student Assessment for faculty of Science on 24 & 25 August, 2018. The objective of the workshop is to equip the faculty members with the latest and current techniques of evaluation so as to make learning a valued experience for the students. It also aims to enable the teachers to assess the level of competency of the students with a focus on application, analysis, synthesis and evaluation of knowledge and skills acquired by them. Following are the objectives and expected learning outcomes of the workshop:

- a) Participants will be familiarised with the essential attributes of good evaluation.
- b) They will be provided hands on training to assess different levels of learning outcomes.
- c) To discuss framing of unambiguous and error free questions.
- d) To analyze whether the questions are able to meet the objectives set in the syllabus.
- e) To assess whether the questions are well balanced in terms of time allotted and allocation of marks.

The Resource persons for the workshop are:

1. Prof. K Ramnarayan, Chairperson-Manipal University, Jaipur & Vice President Faculty Development, Manipal Academy of Higher Education.
2. Prof. Sudhakar Nayak, Director-Manipal Centre for Professional & Personal Development, Manipal Academy of Higher Education & Adjunct Professor-MUJ-Teacher Empowerment Centre
3. Prof. Prashanti Eachempati, Head of Department of Prosthodontics, Melaka Manipal Medical College, Melaka Malaysia. Adjunct Professor-MUJ- Teacher Empowerment Centre

Two day Workshop on “Principles and Practices of Effective Student Assessment” for the Faculty of Science

A two day Workshop on “Principles and Practices of Effective Student Assessment” for the Faculty of Science was organized by Examination Cell, IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur on 24-25 August, 2018.

The Inaugural ceremony took place in A.V. Hall from 9:30 am to 11:00 am on 24th August, 2018. Dr. Ashok Gupta, Hon’ble Vice Chancellor delivered the inaugural speech and Dr. Raakhi Gupta, Rector and Registrar, IIS (deemed to be University) described the aims and objectives of the Workshop.

Prof. K. Ramnarayan delivered his key note address on the topic “The Vanishing Art of Lecturing”. The session ended with a formal Vote of thanks proposed by Prof. Pradeep Bhatnagar, Dean, Faculty of Science, IIS (deemed to be University), Jaipur.

Session 1: “Gulab and the Jamoon”

The highly interactive session was conducted by Prof. Sudhakar Naik, Director-Manipal Centre for Professional & Personal Development, Manipal Academy of Higher Education. During the session he discussed the importance of Assessment for the Learning process. Participants were introduced to the 3 domains of assessment i.e. Cognitive, Psychomotor and Affective corresponding to the Knowledge, Skills and Attitude of students.

Session 2: “OXYGEN, HYDROGEN, HALOGEN, ANDROGEN (Fundamentals of objective assessment)”

Speaking on the occasion, Prof. Dr K Ramnarayan Chairperson, Manipal University Jaipur demonstrated the fundamentals of objective assessment. He explained about the strengths and weaknesses of MCQ as a test format, Guidelines for construction of sound multiple choice questions and common technical flaws to be avoided while designing the questions.

Session 3: “ASSESSMENT FOR LEARNING”

Professor K. Ramnarayan, Chairperson, Manipal University, delivered an interactive lecture on the effectiveness of assessment for learning, which gave an intricate insight on the basics of Formative Assessment and the benefits of the same over Summative Assessment.

Registrar

IIS (deemed to be University)

Session 4: “DIPSTICKS TO FATHOM STUDENTS UNDERSTANDING”

Prof. Prashanti Eachempati, Adjunct Professor-Manipal University, Jaipur interacted with faculty members on 53 dipsticks which were an integral part of Formatting Assessment strategies. The post lunch session had lots of hands on activities. An effective illustration of Kahoot App was the highlight of the session.

Session 5: “CHAKSHUMATHI VIDYA”

Day one of the two day workshop ended with the enlightening words of Prof. Sudhakar, He beautifully portrayed that the approach has to be effective to make the students learn.

Session 6: “Formative Assessment”

Day two of the workshop started with a positive note by Prof. Sudhakar Nayak wherein he emphasized that classroom must be a place where students look forward to come again & again and this is only possible if a teacher maintains his/her grace and trust of students.

Session 7: “OBJECTIVITY IN SUBJECTIVITY (Framing and assessing essay questions)”

The session on framing and assessing essay questions was conducted by Prof. K Ramnarayan. He began the session with a humorous definition of the 'examination'. He emphasized that 'The way you learn determines the way you learn'. Then he discussed the problems with essay type questions.

Session 8: “ITEM ANALYSIS (Determining the Effectiveness of MCQs)”

This session was a Post Tea session which was conducted by Prof. Prashanti Eachempati. The objectives of the session were to teach how to calculate the indices of item analysis and to understand their interpretation as well as their analysis.

Session 9: “BEYOND RECALL”

The Session was conducted by Prof. K. Ramnarayan in which he discussed about the awareness and understanding to be kept in mind while setting of a question paper. He explained that multiple choice questions should cover all levels of knowledge domain like recalling, interpretation and problem solving level.

Session 10: Blueprint for Assessment

Prof. K Ramnarayan, highlighted the effective plan for setting a question paper. He presents the major specifications required to set a good question paper.

Two day workshop benefited the faculty members in terms of developing the skills for assessing and evaluating the students.

At the outset, the dean, Prof. Pradeep Bhatnagar welcomed all the members of the BOS.

Prof. R. K. Bansal chaired the session. The syllabus for the MSc Chemistry is considered for discussion. Initially all the members discussed about the credit template, scheme of examinations, title of papers and practical papers. Suggestions made after the discussion are-

1. Change in the Credit template was proposed. It was suggested to keep the credits of all the semester almost equal. Respective modifications were suggested. Major change in the credit of the dissertation of MSc Sem IV i.e. reduced from 20 to 10.
2. A change in the scheme of the examination was proposed. It was suggested to merge Research methodology paper with Seminar CHY 227. Respective change in the scheme of examination of this paper was suggested.
3. Dr Tanmoy Chakraborty suggested incorporating Course out come and programme outcome. He also suggested to use the references in two sections- Text books and suggested readings.
4. In laboratory course, a new paper was proposed on laboratory safety for the 1st year students, to improve laboratory awareness. It was proposed to include it as compulsory paper. In laboratory course it was suggested to use micro kits. There are some suggestions for the shuffling of the content. Particularly for Seminar, it was suggested to use language laboratory for Seminar.
5. Some other suggestions are as follows-
  - o It was suggested to introduce some new papers.
  - o Modifications in the title of some papers were suggested.
  - o It was suggested to remove green chemistry content from Environmental and green chemistry paper and the title of the paper was changed to Environmental chemistry.

There after all the members were dispersed in three groups- Inorganic, Organic and physical according to their respective fields. The discussion continued in groups on the next day. After lunch all the groups assembled and discussed the suggestions. The meeting ended with a vote of thanks.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

The world is witnessing one of its peaceful revolutions: the gradual rebalancing of the genders' social, educational and economic power. As a result, a prominent increase in the number of women employees in higher education is noticeable. However, they still seem to be comparatively under-represented in leadership roles. Thus, bridging the gender gap and achieving gender equality in Higher education, poses a big challenge.

There are many management skills which do not come naturally, but they can be acquired. This workshop is being organized to offer those women, who are or wish to be managers and leaders in Higher Education, an opportunity to develop skills that will be compatible with their educational values and philosophy. This workshop will address some common issues faced by women in managerial positions such as how to choose the leadership style that suits them; how to build an effectively operating team and network; how to make decisions and delegate responsibilities; how to keep the team members motivated and how to handle stress and conflict while trying to balance the personal and professional interfaces.

During this two-day workshop, the participants will discuss the concepts, issues and practices of management skills. As a result, they will emerge as highly trained professionals. They will take back well-developed strategies that can help them diligently and responsibly handle their roles and responsibilities in their respective professional contexts. This workshop and its activity sessions will enable them to leverage their individual strength and give them competence to achieve the required leadership potential expected of them.

AIMS

- To explore leadership styles, team building and working in teams
- To explore motivation and delegation as educative strategies
- To develop ways of understanding stress
- To examine the interface between professional and personal lives
- To explore ethical decision-making processes
- To draw up some guidelines for the successful management of conflict

THE IIS UNIVERSITY

The IIS University (IISU) is an exceptionally cosmopolitan and vibrant university based in one of the country's most exciting and ethnically rich cities – the Pink City. It is known for the excellence in the student centered learning and is dedicated and unequally qualified to prepare the students to become the World's next generation of creative leadership.

Amongst the thirty eight deemed to be universities in India placed in the category 'A' by Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, it is a progressive institution that has blazed trails since its inception almost two decades ago as the International College for Girls (ICG). Within a short span of being granted an autonomous status by UGC in 2007, the college was declared deemed to be a university in 2009. The IIS University has also been accredited by NAAC and included u/s 12B by the UGC. The university is committed to promote quality education, research and innovation. The University offers a wide array of semester based undergraduate, post graduate and research programmes which make for a robust academic environment. Our motto is the three Es: Efficiency, Excellence and Effectiveness.

INAUGURAL

The first day of the workshop began with the Inaugural Session in which after invoking the blessings of God through a Saraswati Vandana and Lamp Lighting, Dr. Ashok Gupta, Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, The IIS University, Jaipur gave the welcome address and extended a warm welcome to the participants. He expressed his gratitude to ACU, UK for giving the required grant to organize the workshop. He emphasized upon the need for development of management skills among women so that their representation in leadership roles also increases in number in the higher education sector. He assured the participants that this workshop will prove to be a milestone in developing women leaders. Prof. Raakhi Gupta, Workshop Organizer and Rector & Registrar, The IIS University, Jaipur stated that women are an untapped resource whose representation at senior management positions is alarmingly less and thus need to leverage their individual strength to acquire the competence required to perform leadership roles. Further, in line with the aforesaid scenario, she highlighted the following aims and objectives of the workshop:-

- To analyze leadership styles, team building and working in teams.
- To discuss issues related to balancing professional and personal lives.
- To examine motivation and delegation strategies
- To explore strategies for successful management of conflict

SESSION I: LEADERSHIP AND ITS STYLES IN HIGHER EDUCATION

After the inaugural session, the resource person for the day Prof. Kranti Jejurkar, Former Chairperson, Women Development Cell, University of Mumbai, Mumbai began the first session 'Leadership and its Styles in Higher Education' through ice-breaking self-introduction of the participants.

Prof. Jejurkar discussed at length about the different leadership styles like democratic, strategic, transformational, laissez-faire, facilitative etc. that can be adopted by the women leaders to suit their needs. She emphasized that although a leadership style depends upon the culture of the organization yet democratic style is one of the most effective options. She emphasized that leadership should be result-oriented and all management activities should be carried out as per the vision and mission of the institution. In this brainstorming session, the participants were asked to examine the philosophy of higher education and identify the linkage between their selection of profession in higher education and the core values of the same. They were asked to reflect upon their leadership style keeping in mind the variety of culture, background, food habits, upbringing etc. of the team members that need to be equally respected. The responses, strengths of the participants were discussed at length to find an appropriate solution to the problems faced by them in leadership roles.

Tea Break (15 minutes)

SESSION II: TEAM BUILDING AND BEING PART OF A TEAM

In the second session, Prof. Jejurkar reflected on the various aspects of team building. The participants were asked to ponder upon how would they like to be managed and led in order to get an idea how to build a team. They were asked to narrate their experiences of working in different types of teams to find a solution to the problems generally faced in the scenario like being unwelcomed as a leader by men and women both, gender bias, etc. It was concluded that apart from communication, planning and decision-making activities other attributes like negotiating, motivating and building trust were essential for effective team work. Everybody agreed to the inference that as a team leader, a woman should be patient as well as assertive while tackling behavioral issues of gender stereotypes. Being accorded the status of a leader, the approach should never be one of taking revenge or teaching a lesson. It should only be of leading the team towards accomplishment of common goal. Punctuality, discipline and allowing everyone a space to give their opinion are important aspects to be considered to build a team. This was an interactive session and proved to be an enriching and enlightening experience for the participants.

Women

In the third session, all the women participants were asked to undertake personal reflection in order to recognize their own professional needs like identification of obstacles in their path of upward mobility. They were asked to ponder upon those aspects of professional life that used to affect them as a member of a team; like long working hours, unequal workload, insufficient leaves or maternity leaves, mental/ physical harassment, gender discrimination, unequal pay or admiration etc. Keeping in mind these factors, the women participants learned how to be an effective leader and not let anyone in the team face any of the above mentioned situations. Responsibility, achievement, recognition and space for personal growth were collectively identified as the key motivational factors. The future women leaders learnt that the credit for success should be given to the team members and the responsibility of failures should be borne and accepted by the leader. They learned that as a leader positive attitude, inculcating personality traits of a role model, appreciating the efforts and resilience to overcome adverse circumstances can be some of the ways to keep the team motivated. The session was very informative and proved to be a good learning experience for the participants.

DAY II (17 FEBRUARY 2018)

SESSION IV: MANAGING WORK DELEGATION AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The resource person for the second day Ms. Tejal Raut, Programme Manager, Piramal Foundation Initiative, Mumbai, started by asking each participant to introduce her professional profile. Through an activity of giving and taking instructions, Ms. Raut elaborated that how one set of instruction can be interpreted in several ways by the members of the team and emphasized that it is very important to give precise and clear instructions to each team member. She said that a leader should also make sure that each member clearly understands his/her role and the task to be completed. She also discussed how and to whom a work should be delegated and stressed that a SWOT (Strength, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats) analysis of the team members should be conducted before assigning any task. She concluded that the contribution of each team member should be acknowledged and they should be given proper space to execute their work.

SESSION V: BALANCING PROFESSIONAL AND PERSONAL LIFE

The participants were divided into six groups. Each group was asked to identify three problems related to the balance between professional and personal life and to suggest solutions for overcoming these problems. Some problems identified were stress carried over from work to home and vice-versa, family duties and responsibilities calling parallel to urgency at work, lack of family support and appreciation, time management between household, family and professional requirements, responsibilities of various relationships affecting the quality or completion of task at work, effect of stress on health and the like. Group activities like role play, chart making and verbal presentations not only made the learning process interesting but also gave a food for thought to the participants to find solutions to their respective problems. They also undertook a self- assessment on where are we (WAW) basis to which the resource person concluded that conflicting situations in personal and professional lives can be resolved through negotiations and open communication with family members and colleagues.

among the participants. The workshop proved to be an enriching mix of experiences and perspectives.

Action Plan

The participants left with a beneficial action plan and new ideas to bring about positive change in themselves to prove to the world that while deciding whom to hand over the responsibilities of a leading or managing position, women also stand at an equally deserving platform. The key takeaways of the workshop were:

- (i) Organizing programmes in their institutions for reviewing the leadership and management skills of female faculty members.
- (ii) Enhancing communication with colleagues in terms of effective and efficient interpersonal dialogue.
- (iii) Ensuring proper alignment of goals and strategies.
- (iv) Delegating work and responsibilities as per the capabilities of the team members
- (v) Stretching the comfort zone and taking steps to recognize one's own potential.
- (vi) Strengthening team work through positive interventions.
- (vii) Balancing professional and personal life by speaking out against injustices, explaining and requesting family for support, accepting that one cannot be perfect always and everywhere, facing any fears that hamper the growth etc.
- (viii) Motivating one self, paying attention on mental and physical health, finding time for interests and hobbies and learning the required coping strategies.

NOTICE

The University is organizing a two days workshop on Question Framing Techniques for the faculty members of Arts & Social Sciences. The objective of the workshop is to equip the faculty members with the latest and current techniques of evaluation so as to make learning a valued experience for the students. It also aims to enable the teachers to assess the level of competency of the students with a focus on application, analysis, synthesis and evaluation of knowledge and skills acquired by them. Following are the objectives and expected learning outcomes of the workshop:

- a) Participants will be familiarised with the essential attributes of good evaluation.
- b) They will be provided hands on training to assess different levels of learning outcomes.
- c) To discuss framing of unambiguous and error free questions.
- d) To analyze whether the questions are able to meet the objectives set in the syllabus.
- e) To assess whether the questions are well balanced in terms of time allotted and allocation of marks.

The Resource persons for the workshop are Prof. K. Sudha Rao, Former Vice Chancellor, Karnataka State Open University, Mysore & Prof. Vimala Veera Raghavan, Emeritus Professor (Psychology), Psychology SOSS, IGNOU, New Delhi who shall be delivering the Expert Lecture and conducting the workshop.

The exercise sessions will be conducted in groups (discipline-wise). Each group will consist of a group leader who will act as a facilitator. The group leader can be an Internal Senior faculty member or a Senior External Expert (to be finalized in consultation with the Dean, faculty of Arts & Social Sciences).

Following are the guidelines for the workshop:

1. The Heads should contact and invite the external expert in their subject approved by the Dean, Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences. It is advised that only a local external expert should be invited.

Two-Day Workshop on Question Framing Techniques for Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences (27-28 January, 2018)

REPORT

A two- day workshop on ‘Question Framing Technique for Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences’ was organized by the Examination department of the IIS University, Jaipur on 27-28 January, 2018. The workshop was organized with the following objectives:

- i) To familiarize the participants with the essential attributes of good evaluation
- ii) To provide hands-on training to assess different levels of learning outcomes
- iii) To discuss framing of unambiguous and error free questions
- iv) To analyse whether the questions are able to meet the objectives set in the syllabus
- v) To assess whether the questions are well balanced in terms of time allotted and allocation of marks

Eighty faculty members and seventeen resource persons from Arts & Social Sciences participated in the workshop. The participants were divided into 17 groups on the basis of disciplines. Each group worked under the expert guidance of a Resource Person who acted as the group leader of the subject/ discipline. (List of Resource persons attached)

The workshop comprised of an inaugural session and seven technical sessions. A brief report of the workshop follows:

The inaugural ceremony began with Saraswati Vandana followed by lighting the lamp to seek divine blessings, after which Prof. N.K. Jain, Dean Arts & Social Sciences apprised the gathering on the objectives of the workshop. He stated that the workshop aims at learning the art of framing quality questions. Prof. Sudha Rao, Former Vice Chancellor, Karnataka State Open University, Mysore delivered her keynote Address. She started by emphasizing on the role of a good and a bad teacher in making of a student’s personality. She also stressed that the crux of a university depends upon the quality of questions being prepared by the teachers.

She spoke at length on taxonomy which plays a vital role in making learning interesting and is helpful in writing outcome at any level. She threw light on the necessary inputs that go in teaching, learning content and elaborated on the terms 'Course Outcome, 'Course Purpose' and 'Expected Outcome'. She ended her address by pointing on the idea that a course should instill critical thinking in writing.

After the keynote speech Prof. N.K. Jain, Dean faculty of Arts & Social Sciences presented mementos to the key note speaker Prof. Sudha Rao and the resource person Prof. Vimla Veera Raghavan. The vote of thanks was delivered by Prof. Nisha Yadav, Controller of Examinations, The IIS University, which was followed by tea.

TECHNICAL SESSIONS (DAY I)

The resource persons for the day were Prof. K Sudha Rao, Former Vice Chancellor, Karnataka State Open University, Mysore and Prof. Vimla Veera Raghavan, Emeritus Professor (Psychology), Psychology SOSS, IGNOU, New Delhi. (CV attached)

Prof. Rao stated that higher order learning has become the main focus of education. Assessment is an alignment with what the students are expected to achieve. She stressed that in addition to learning the students are expected to learn some skills and questions should be framed accordingly. She elaborated on the do's and don'ts of question framing. She explained about Bloom's Taxonomy and various dimensions of learning like the cognitive, affective and psychomotor dimensions. She also discussed about various cognitive levels of Bloom's taxonomy like remembering, understanding, applying, analyzing, evaluation and creation. She threw light on various aspects of conceptual, procedural and metacongitive knowledge. She concluded that instruction needs to pay attention to cognitive, affective and psychomotor domains. In the post lunch session Prof. Rao highlighted various aspects of evaluation and course outcomes. She emphasized that while designing the syllabi the uniqueness of the course, essential knowledge and skills to be imparted to the students should be clearly mentioned. She explained that how course description and course purpose differed from one another and emphasized course purpose goes beyond course description.

The participants were given experiential group exercise wherein they were asked to outline the purpose of the course learning outcomes and scheme of assessment. The participants were asked to analyze the objectives of the course, learning outcomes and scheme of assessment. They were also asked to analyze how these courses fit into the students educational experience. The groups were allotted a stipulated time period to finish the assigned work. Group presentation were made on course purpose, learning outcomes and assessment scheme. The exercises were moderated by Prof. Sudha Rao and Prof. Vimla Veera Raghavan. They gave valuable inputs to the groups for further improvement.

TECHNICAL SESSIONS (DAY II)

The Resource Person for the day was Prof. Vimla Veera Raghavan. She gave her expert talk on 'Improvement Plans, Closing the quality loop'. She gave important inputs regarding framing of question papers by making the participants do various exercises based on multiple choice and essay type questions. As a part of improvement plans, she discussed the various types of knowledge that the questions impart by undertaking a hands on exercise. In order to upgrade the quality of the questions, she also dealt with the criteria laid down for considering the questions framed as "good", namely clarity, reliability, validity, authenticity and fairness. She talked at length about the points that are to be kept in mind while setting the question paper and also the guidelines for the moderators or the reviewers. She said that while setting or reviewing the paper, it should be kept in mind that the paper should be in accordance with the syllabus, well balanced and doesn't contain gender, religious or cultural bias. She emphasized that as a general rule of thumb, the time allowed to a candidate to solve the paper should be three times to the time that is taken by the examiner. She also pointed out the testing of a student's remembering, understanding, applying, analyzing, evaluating and creating ability and various command words used for these purposes while setting the question paper. She laid emphasis on the clarity, reliability, validity, authenticity and fairness of the question paper as well as the marking scheme.

Prof. Raghavan focused on the selection of the multiple choice, objective or subjective questions in accordance of the type of skills of a student to be tested and also the uses of a particular type of questions for a particular testing and learning objective. She threw light on the paper setting and blue printing and the contents of a good blue print as well. She also stressed on the value of good marking while elaborating upon the various approaches of the marking scheme.

The participants were asked to frame multiple choice questions, true or false short answer questions and essay type questions. These questions were analyzed under the expert guidance of Prof. Raghavan.

The session was highly interactive and enriching as the expertise of the Resouce Persons provided new insights into the significance and processes of the outlining same with clarity and precision as its major objectives.

Awareness Programme on IT Return

Date – 30th March 2017

An activity on Awareness Programme on IT Return was organised on 30th March, 2017 in Computer Lab "A" at the IIS University, Jaipur. The target group for the activity were teaching and non-teaching staff members. 23 members with individual PAN CARDS participated in the activity.

The activity aimed at giving practical hands on training and exposure to staff members regarding concepts of ITRs. CA Prateek Goyal from M/s Vinod Singhal & Company, Chartered Accountants, was called to conduct the one day activity on Awareness of Income Tax Returns. The activity proved very useful for the participants as they had a good learning of basics of Income tax Returns and its filling.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

In the present research scenario, Advanced Techniques have become an essential pre requisite to carry out quality research. Various such techniques are used in different fields of biology to solve particular environmental and biological problems. New applications of such techniques continue unabated in all spheres of life.

In this workshop, the participants will be familiar with the hands on practices of many basic as well as advanced techniques of cell culture handling, maintenance, preservation and their usage in various molecular biology aspects.

In this regard, the workshop will be helpful for the participants to learn various techniques associated with animal cell culture and molecular biology, including DNA & protein isolation, electrophoresis, PCR etc. Invited lectures from eminent scientists will further facilitate the understanding and learning.

OBJECTIVES OF THE WORKSHOP

The workshop will give an overview of molecular biology application in Biotechnology. It will also include hands on sessions on basic techniques used in molecular biology such as:

- Plasmid DNA Isolation
- PCR
- Gel Electrophoresis
- SDS PAGE
- Immunocytochemistry
- Advanced Cell Culture Techniques
- Cell Proliferation Assay

TARGET PARTICIPANTS

The proposed workshop is meant for Postgraduate students, Research scholars and faculty members of Bioscience.

DATES AND VENUE

Date 6-12 December, 2016
Venue The IIS University
SFS, Gurukul Marg, Mansarovar, Jaipur-20

HOW TO APPLY

The duly filled in registration form should reach the University reception, on or before 1 December, 2016. The registration form can be downloaded from our website: www.iisuniv.ac.in.

Selection : Selection will be based on first come first serve basis. Thirty participants will be selected.

Certificate : A Certificate for attending the workshop will be issued.

ABOUT THE IIS UNIVERSITY

The IIS University is a deemed- to-be-a-university (placed in category 'A' by MHRD, Government of India) under the section 3 of the UGC Act, 1956.

With over 4500 students and 215 staff members, the University offers UG, PG and Doctoral programmes in Arts, Science, Commerce, Home Science, Management and Computer Science & IT.

Established in 1995, as the International College for Girls, affiliated to the University of Rajasthan, the college has crossed significant milestones in its journey towards excellence in higher education.

Besides receiving numerous other accolades, it has been accredited A+ by NAAC of UGC, recognized as a college with potential for Excellence (CPE) by the UGC and selected as a model college by the state government. In a national survey by AC-Nielson-ORGMARG in April-May 2010 for the India Today Magazine, ICG is rated as the top college in the state in Arts, Science and Commerce streams. Ranked among the top 30 institutions of the country in this survey, the college has become a symbol of quality education and women empowerment grooming the young girls into World Ready Women.

Centre for Research, Innovation and Training (CRIT) at the IIS University, Jaipur has been established with a vision to collaborate with the industry and other organizations to undertake cross-functional research and development while developing a symbolic setup leveraging competencies of both industry and academia for societal development. CRIT aims to provide an enabling environment for continuous development and growth of faculty and students for transforming them into real propositions through research, incubation and Industry-Institute-Interaction leading to development of futuristic and commercially viable technologies and businesses. CRIT has organized following Workshops/Seminars to promote quality research:

1. ICSSR Sponsored Ten Days Course on Research Methodology from 10-19 September, 2013.
2. Seven Days National Workshop on Research Methodology & Statistical Analysis Using IBM SPSS from 10-16 June, 2014.
3. Eight Days National Workshop on Research Methodology & Statistical Analysis Using IBM SPSS from 02-09 July, 2014.
4. Two Days National Workshop on Ethics in Scientific Writing and Plagiarism from 07-08 November, 2014.
5. Two Days National Workshop on Research Plan & Proposal in collaboration with IQAC from 13-14 February, 2015.
6. ICSSR Sponsored Two Day National Seminar on Women Empowerment and Inclusive Growth from 13-14 March, 2015.
7. ICSSR Sponsored 2-Week Capacity Building Workshop on Research Methodology for Young Faculty in Social Sciences from 21 May-04 June, 2015.
8. Four Days Workshop on Teaching Methodology in collaboration with IQAC from 05-08 August 2015.
9. ICSSR Sponsored Two Day National Seminar on Higher Education in 2025: Growth, Challenges and Opportunities from 20-21 November, 2015.
10. Seven Day Workshop on Research Methodology for Faculty of Science, 26 March 2016-1 April, 2016
11. Seven Day Workshop on Research Methodology for Research Scholars (Faculty of Arts & Social Science & Commerce & Management), 4-11 April, 2016.
12. 2-Week Workshop on Research Methodology for Faculty members and Research Scholars, 15-28 June, 2016.

ABOUT JAIPUR

Jaipur, the pink city of India is the starting point for visitors of Rajasthan. The capital of Rajasthan casts an unusual spell on the travelers with its royal palaces, forts and monuments, revealing a historic past of chivalrous warriors, aristocratic royal ladies, art & craft, literature and science. Handicrafts like miniature paintings, textiles, blue pottery and jewelry make it a shopper's paradise as well.

The Centre for Research, Innovation and Training (CRIT) of the IIS University successfully organized a “Seven day workshop on Advanced Techniques in Biological Sciences” from 6 December to 12 December 2016 for post graduate students, research scholars and faculty members of Biosciences. 26 participants attended the workshop, including students and faculty member from Jaipur and outside.

Each day there was three sessions in the workshop. The inaugural lecture was delivered by Dr. Biswarup Basu Assistant Professor, Anity University Noida. His talk was on the elementary knowledge of animal cell culture, he enlightened the participants about the protocols necessary for cell culture technique. In the second session he imparted hands on training how to revive cells for cell culture, followed by the sub culturing technique in the next session.

Day 2 of the workshop started with the cell proliferation technique, its visualization and analysis. Next session the participants performed the MITT assay which was followed by result interpretation in the last session.

Day 3 of the workshop started with the lecture of Dr. Sobha Bhargava, Professor Department of Zoology, from SavitriBhai Phoolle Pune University. Her lecture was on various histological preparation and immuno-histochemistry. She shared her research experience and the do's and don'ts in histology. In the next session she imparted hands on training on the tissue processing of immuno-histological sections.

Day 4 the participants continued the processing of immuno-histological sections, followed by histochemical section preparation and the result analysis. She also provided hands on training how to perfect the processing of histological tissue preparations.

Day 5 started with the lecture of Dr. Vivekatanda of Malviya National Institute of Technology Jaipur. He talked on the generation of bioenergy and the production of biogas. It was followed by demonstration of measurement of biogas in the laboratory.

Day 6 of the workshop was started with the lecture of Dr. Nidhi Gupta, she delivered lecture on plasmid DNA isolation technique, PCR and Agarose gel electrophoresis. It was followed by DNA isolation from plasmid of E.coli, then subjected to PCR for amplification and then the product formation is analyzed by agarose gel electrophoresis.

In the Last day of the workshop, participants learned the technique of SDS PAGE for identification of proteins from blood sample.

INTRODUCTION

Logical and conceptual knowledge is a prerequisite of good research. This workshop on Research Methodology aims to develop and promote research acumen amongst the young faculty members and research scholars. This workshop has been designed to integrate qualitative and quantitative techniques and to orient the participants towards fundamentals of research so that they can comply with the quality standards of research in their respective disciplines.

OBJECTIVES

This workshop aims to train the participants in the following key areas:

- To make the participants familiar with the basic concepts of Research Methodology.
- To familiarize the participants with the basics of data handling and analysis.
- To give hands on experience in primary research to the participants through the practical work assigned to them.
- To enable the participants to develop quantitative and qualitative research skills.
- To enable the participants to develop research plan proposal.

TARGET OF PARTICIPANTS

Target participants for the proposed workshop are young faculty members and research scholars.

DATES AND VENUE

Date 24 Nov. - 30 Nov., 2016

Venue The IIS University, SFS,
Gurukul Marg, Mansarovar, Jaipur-20

OUTCOME

It is expected that the participant would be able to :

- Draft a research plan proposal in their area of interest.
- Provide a write up on the learning from the workshop and how the same would be implemented by them.

ABOUT THE IIS UNIVERSITY

The IIS University is a deemed- to-be-a-university (placed in category 'A' by MHRD, Government of India) under the section 3 of the UGC Act, 1956. With over 5200 students and 215 staff members, the University offers UG, PG and Doctoral programmes in Arts, Science, Commerce, Home Science, Management and Computer Science & IT. Established in 1995, as the International College for Girls, affiliated to the University of Rajasthan, the college has crossed significant milestones in its journey towards excellence in higher education. Besides receiving numerous other accolades, it has been accredited A+ by NAAC of UGC, recognized as a college with potential for Excellence (CPE) by the UGC and selected as a model college by the state government. In a national survey by AC-Nielson-ORGMARG in April-May 2010 for the India Today Magazine, ICG is rated as the top college in the state in Arts, Science and Commerce streams. Ranked among the top 30 institutions of the country in this survey, the college has become a symbol of quality education and women empowerment grooming the young girls into World Ready Women.

The Centre for Research, Innovation and Training (CRIT) of the IIS University, Jaipur organized a “Seven-Day National Workshop on Research Methodology” from 24 November to 30 November 2016 for research scholars and young faculty members in the IISU Campus. The workshop was inaugurated by Dr. Ashok Gupta, Vice Chancellor, the IIS University. The workshop was organised keeping in mind the need of the hour to improve the quality of teaching and learning process. The workshop commenced with an introductory remark of the basic purpose of the Workshop by Dr. Subhash Garg, Dean & Director, CRIT. The core objective of the workshop was to equip the research scholars with set of skills and potentiality to undertake the research very effectively in the disciplines of Commerce, Management and Social Sciences

The workshop was designed to achieve the following objectives:

- To make the participants familiar with the basic concepts of Research Methodology.
- To familiarize the participants with the basics of data handling and analysis.
- To give hands on experience in Primary research to the participants through the practical work assigned to them
- To enable the participants to develop research plan proposal.
- To enable the participants to develop quantitative and qualitative research skills.

The workshop brought together over 51 participants from different universities. The workshop focused on both qualitative and quantitative aspects of research. The workshop provided an interactive atmosphere between the resource persons and the participants. The workshop focused on helping participants to understand basics of research methodology with special emphasis on writing a research proposal. The workshop was handled by a team of eminent resource persons from the respective field. Some of the notable speakers were Dr. Balwinder Singh, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, Prof. Balkishan, Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla, Dr. Ramesh C. Gaur, Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), New Delhi, Dr. Neeraj Kaushik, NIT, Kurukshetra, Dr. Sanket Vij, B.P.S. Mahila Vishwavidyalaya, Sonapat and Dr. Satish Kumar, MNIT, Jaipur. Dr. Poonam Madan was the convener of the workshop and Dr. Bhawana Arya, Dr. Payal Mehtani, Dr. Mani Bhatia and Dr. R. K. Taylor were the co-convenors of the workshop. Most of the participants who attended the workshop were Research Scholars and Faculty Members.

The detailed report of the workshop is as follows:

Day 1

The first session of the workshop was conducted by Prof. Rashmi Jain, Vice Principal, University Maharani College, Jaipur who introduced the participants to the basic aspects of qualitative research, with a purpose of building a strong foundation within aspiring researchers. In her session, she discussed Grounded theory as a qualitative research approach. She talked about Ethnography as an extremely broad area with a great variety of practitioners and methods. However, the most common ethnographic approach is participant observation as a part of field research. She explained about ethno-methodology and stressed that interpretative understanding of the society is essential in order to draw generalizations. She concluded her lecture by highlighting the importance of qualitative research. This was followed by interactive session which proved to be enriching for all the participants.

The Resource person of the second session was Prof. Nisha Yadav, Controller of the Examination, The IIS University, Jaipur. She elaborated the philosophy of qualitative research and reflected on its various aspects. She also discussed the various methods of analysing and interpreting qualitative data. Major qualitative approaches were also introduced to the participants. She explained Critical Research as the notion which includes self-critique, a critical posture vis-a-vis qualitative inquiry itself.

The resource person for the technical session III&IV of Day I was Dr Satish Kumar, MNIT, Jaipur. The discussion topic for his session was handling the Literature Review which is one of the most vital parts of the research endeavour. The steps to be followed for developing the Review of Literature in a structured fashion were discussed. He suggested that the researchers should read the book "Research Design" by Jennifer Walker to brush up their knowledge. He explained the uses of Mendeley as a free reference manager, data manager for citation for academic and social network. He threw light on online bibliographic programmes. He also addressed several issues related to writing quality research papers. He explained about end notes and foot notes. He gave information about the requirements of a good article emphasized on its originality. He stated that researchers should make efforts to publish their articles only in peer reviewed and indexed journals. He explained about the steps of framing of paper and process of review of papers.

Day 2

Dr. Neeraj Kaushik, who is a renowned expert in the field of research methodology, was the resource person for the day. Dr. Neeraj Kaushik is currently working as Associate Professor in Department of Business Administration, National Institute of Technology, Kurukshetra. He explained about Exploratory, Descriptive and Experimental research. He discussed about internet sources for collection of data. In the subsequent sessions he dealt with basic statistics, importance of statistical enquiries and their limitations, mean & median and elaborated on SPSS. He explained about measures of central tendency, measures of dispersion, moment & kurtosis and skewness.

In his second session, he discussed about questionnaire building and formation of Research Questions. He dealt at length with questionnaire framing and types of questions. He focused on questionnaire designing, types of questions to be included, avoidance of overlapping categories, reliability and validity of the questionnaire were discussed. Various issues related types of question sequence of questions were addressed during this session.

Day 3

Dr. Neeraj Kaushik took a session on identifying variables for research. He discussed the concept of Independent, Dependent, Extraneous, Mediating and Moderating Variables Controlling Extraneous Variables. He discussed the concepts in Hypothesis Testing, Null and Research Hypothesis, Statistical Significance and confidence Intervals, Inferential Errors

He took a session on Identification of Statistical Tools for Data Analysis and gave brief introduction to the participants on various topics like Scales of Measurement, Sampling Theory, Probability and Non Probability Sampling. He stressed that sampling which otherwise is often mistaken for an easy task actually demands utmost care and sincerity. He expounded on universe, population and sampling. He discussed about the types of probability sampling with the help of examples. Detailed discussion was carried out on simple random sampling, stratified sampling, convenience sampling and snowball sampling. He stated that generally the social science and management researchers work on 5% confidence level. He also explained about sample size criteria, level of precision and degree of variability.

In his post lunch session on Formulating Hypotheses, he discussed about role and sources of hypothesis, and explained about null and alternate Hypothesis. He emphasized the acceptance and rejections of hypothesis are research outcomes. Dr. Neeraj Kaushik also conducted practice sessions on Research Questions and Hypothesis Framing.

Day 4

The resource person for the day was Dr. Balwinder Saini, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar. The session provided an overview of the data sources available to researchers and demonstrated how different types of data can be incorporated into research. Particular attention was paid to how primary data can produce high quality research output. The basics of SPSS and data entry were dealt in the session on Data preparation- Coding & Tabulation, Basic Data Cleanings in SPSS followed by Descriptive statistics & Cross-tabulation. He explained about Data Entry & Data Cleaning and outlier data. He stressed that data duplication should be avoided since it can be identified by SPSS. He explained the process of data selection in SPSS. He discussed about parametric and non-parametric tests. Chi Square test of independence, chi-square test of goodness, Spearman's correlation, phi-test, split file and weighed cases. He explained the steps of these tests with the help of examples. He apprised the participants about the software, the Sigma Plot, which can help us to decide the application of the type of tests. He also gave information about E-Views for regression. He also gave information about ETD, ETHOS and Australian Digital Thesis Programme for downloading thesis on various topics. He emphasized that curiosity is the basic need for learning any software. Students were guided how to perform statistical analysis, data & text mining, predictive modelling and decision optimization. They were also informed about important software available as ready-reckoner for smoothness in their various research analyses. The participants were also given practice of the same.

Day 5

The expert of the session was Prof. Balkishan, Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla. In his session on Hypothesis Testing, Interpretation and Results, he deliberated that since every research has future concerns, so think wisely and make hypothesis near to reality. He drew special attention on regression. He gave clarification about how Regression Analysis is different from Correlation Analysis. Dr. Balkishan carried further the discussion of quantitative analysis by talking on Correlation Analysis with SPSS. He said that one has to take utmost care in making correlation between two variables. It should be logical. He mentioned that sampling should be carried out carefully otherwise the conclusion will be misleading. He explained concepts with hands on practice of writing Results from SPSS. He explained about the application of bivariate correlation, partial correlation, Pearson's coefficient, Spearman's rank correlation and Kendall Tau. He elaborated on one sample t-test, independent sample t-test, paired t-test and ANOVA.

Day 6

Dr. Bhawana Arya took a session on Research Design and designing an effective survey. She elaborated on various types of research designs. She explained about descriptive and exploratory designs with the help of examples. She threw light on various aspects of research methodology. He detailed the participants about various statistical tools used in the research process. He laid emphasis on effective research design for quality research. She gave insights on how to design effective survey for research.

The post lunch session was delivered by Prof. R. C. Gaur, Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), on issues surrounding plagiarism. He familiarized the participants with the use of anti-plagiarism tools in research. He enlightened the participants with the technical terms like H-index, citation and impact factor. He explained that an annotated bibliography is a list of citations to books, articles, and documents and follows the appropriate style format for the discipline, i.e., MLA, APA, Chicago Manual of Style, etc. He explained that creating an annotated bibliography calls for the application of a variety of intellectual skills: concise exposition, succinct analysis, and informed library research. He explained the uses of citation builder and discussed the meaning and seriousness of plagiarism. He discussed and demonstrated how to create bibliography using Zotero from various sources and different formats of bibliography. At the same time he stressed on the importance of references and various styles prevalent for the Reference Management.

Day 7

The sessions on the last day were conducted by Dr. Sanket Vij, B.P.S. Mahila Vishwavidyalaya, Sonapat. In his session on Writing and Presenting Research Proposal, he introduced basic principles of writing proposals across a range of disciplines. He explained the various formats of research proposals and explained in depth for all the components of Research Proposal. Dr. Vij introduced the practical rhetorical and grammatical principles of writing effective proposals to the participants of the workshop. He informed the participants that a proposal should include a working bibliography of key texts that inform about their study and methodology. Researcher should include all sources cited in his or her proposal. Session presented practical strategies, and it included examples of successful proposals.

The session helped the participants to understand the rhetorical situation of the thesis proposal and common elements of such proposals. He explained the intricacies of research progress. He stressed that knowledge of applied statistics and IT tools was must for good research work. He explained the use of SPSS software package. This was followed by interactive session which proved to be enriching for all the participants.

The workshop ended with the valedictory session wherein participants were provided with the certificates of participation.

INTRODUCTION

Research is a continuous process and requires progression to achieve meaningful results for the benefit of the society at large. Research Progression requires a logical and conceptual knowledge. To meet this challenge it is necessary to train and equip the faculty and research scholars so that they can comply with the quality standards of research in their respective disciplines.

OBJECTIVES

The workshop is designed to achieve the following objectives:

1. To make the participants familiar with the basic concepts of research methodology.
2. To impart skills in the integration of qualitative and quantitative research.
3. To make the participants user friendly with the statistical softwares for data analysis.
4. To develop the applied research skills of the participants.

ELIGIBILITY

Faculty members and Research Scholars of any University/College/Institute are eligible to apply for the workshop.

Report

Two Week Workshop on Research Methodology

(15 June 2016- 28 June 2016)

Research is a continuous process and requires progression to achieve meaningful results for the benefit of the society at large. Research Progression requires a logical and conceptual knowledge. To meet this challenge it is necessary to train and equip the faculty and research scholars so that they can comply with the quality standards of research in their respective disciplines. To address these issues a Two Week Workshop was organized by The Centre for Research, Innovation and Training, The IIS University, Jaipur. The workshop was designed to achieve the following objectives:

- To make the participants familiar with the basic concepts of research methodology.
- To impart skills in the integration of qualitative and quantitative research.
- To make the participants user friendly with the statistical softwares for data analysis.
- To develop the applied research skills of the participants.

The workshop was attended by 56 participants. The workshop focused on both qualitative and quantitative aspects of research. The detailed report of the workshop is as follows:

Day 1

The resource person for the day was Dr. Satish Kumar, MNIT, Jaipur. The topic of First session was Research Methodology: Conceptual Frame work. He discussed about the basic idea of research. He stated that researchers should make efforts to publish their articles only in peer reviewed and indexed journals. He talked about various aspects of qualitative research and stressed that researchers should focus on validity, legitimacy and generalization. In the subsequent sessions he elaborated on review of literature. He suggested that the researchers should read the book “Research Design” by Jennifer Walker to brush up their knowledge.

Day 2

Dr Satish Kumar, MNIT, Jaipur was the resource person. He explained the uses of Mendeley as a free reference manager, data manager for citation for academic and social network. He threw light on online bibliographic programmes. He explained about end notes and foot notes.

He also elaborated on various types of research designs. He explained about descriptive and exploratory designs with the help of examples.

He gave information about the requirements of a good article. It should be original and should contribute to the existing body of literature. He explained about the steps of framing of paper and process of review of papers

Day 3

The sessions were taken by Prof. Sanket Vij, Bhagat Phool Singh Mahila Viswavidyalaya, Khanpur Kalan, Sonapat . The topic for the first session was Plagiarism. He explained the uses of citation builder and discussed the meaning and seriousness of plagiarism.

The basics of SPSS and data entry were dealt with in the subsequent sessions. The last session was practice session.

Day 4

The sessions for the day were taken by Prof. Sanket Vij. He discussed about questionnaire building. He dealt at length with questionnaire framing and types of questions. He explained about data entry, data cleaning and outlier data. He stressed that data duplication should be avoided since it can be identified by SPSS. He explained the process of data selection in SPSS. The participants were also given practice of the same.

Day 5

The expert for the sessions was Prof. Sanket Vij. He discussed about formulation of hypothesis and explained about null and alternate hypothesis. He emphasized that acceptance and rejection of hypothesis are research outcomes. He explained about the parametric tests of hypothesis testing. He elaborated on one sample t-test, independent sample t-test, paired t-test and ANOVA.

In the last session of the day he focused on questionnaire designing. Various issues related to types of question, sequence of questions were addressed during this session.

Day 6

Dr. Ashwini Kumar, J.K. Lakshmipat University, Jaipur was the resource person for the day. He explained about various methods of data collection like observation and case study method. He discussed about writing a case and points to be kept in mind while case study like asking probing questions, noting down the details, avoiding any kind of argument, not evaluating the information simultaneously.

Registrar
HS (deemed to be University)
Mansarovar, Jaipur-302020

The last session was devoted to questionnaire designing. Types of questions to be included, avoidance of overlapping categories, reliability and validity of the questionnaire were discussed.

Day 7

The resource person for the day was Dr. Balwinder Saini, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar. He discussed about parametric and non-parametric tests. Chi Square test of independence, chi-square test of goodness, spearman's correlation, phi- test, split file and weighed cases. He explained the steps of these tests with the help of examples. He apprised the participants about the software, the Sigma Plot, which can help us to decide the application of the type of tests. He also gave information about E-Views for regression. He also gave information about ETD, ETHOS and Australian Digital Thesis Programme for downloading thesis on various topics. He emphasized that curiosity is the basic need for learning any software.

Day 8

Dr. Neeraj Kaushik, NIT, Kurukshetra was the resource person for the day. He explained about Exploratory, Descriptive and Experimental research. He discussed about internet sources for collection of data. In the subsequent sessions he dealt with basic statistics, importance of statistical enquiries and their limitations, mean & median and elaborated on SPSS. He explained about measures of central tendency, measures of dispersion, moment & kurtosis and skewness.

Registrar
IIS (deemed to be University)
Mansarovar, Jaipur-302029

Day 9

The resource person was Dr. Neeraj Kaushik. He expounded on universe, population and sampling. He discussed about the types of probability sampling with the help of examples. Detailed discussion was carried out on simple random sampling, stratified sampling, convenience sampling and snowball sampling. He stated that generally the social science and management researchers work on 5% confidence level. He also explained about sample size criteria, level of precision and degree of variability.

Day 10

Dr. Girish Taneja, DAV University, Jalandhar was the resource person. The session was on measures of association. He also explained the concept of variance and covariance. He explained about application of bivariate correlation, partial correlation, pearson's coefficient, spearman's rank correlation and Kendall Tau. He explained bivariate regression with the help of a concept map. He also discussed assumptions of multiple regression He discussed the concept of Heteroscedacity and multi co linearity. The participants were also given practice in multiple regression on SPSS.

Day 11

The resource person for the sessions was Dr. Ajay Chauhan, IMT, Ghaziabad. Multi variate analysis was discussed in the first session. He explained about Exploratory factor analysis and Confirmatory Factor Analysis and Analytic

Hierarchy Process. He also introduced the participants to AMOS commands for analyzing constructs. The AMOS Commands for EFA and CFA were also explained. The participants were given practice in model construction using AMOS.

Day 12

The sessions were taken by Dr. Ajay Chauhan. The sessions were on Structural Equation Modelling and Path Analysis. He stated that SEM is a widely used multivariate statistical method in the area of social science. It is used for analyzing cause and effect relationships among a set of constructs represented by multiple measurable variables in a single model. SEM uses the concepts of both regression analysis and exploratory factor analysis. The applications of SEM were explained with the help of examples. The AMOS commands of SEM were explained and the participants were given an exercise on SEM. The basics of conjoint analysis were also explained.

Day 13

The resource person for the session was Prof. Nisha Yadav, Department of Sociology, The IIS University, Jaipur. She delivered lecture on Philosophy of Social Research. She elaborated on ontology, epistemology, axiology and rhetoric. She explained about research paradigm. She stated that paradigm serves as a framework for guiding research. She also explained about Symbolic Interactionism and Critical Research. Positivist Paradigm and Interpretive Paradigm.

The resource person for the next session was Prof. Uma Joshi, Amity University, Jaipur. She gave her lecture on Qualitative Analysis: Content Analysis of Verbatim

IIS (deemed to be University)
Mansarovar, Jaipur-302020

Expression (CAVE Technique) She discussed about behavior, event and interview. She also discussed about tests to measure competency.

The next session was quiz session. The participants were given fifty questions based on the topics covered in the sessions.

Day 14

Prof. Vinay Srivastava, University of Delhi, New Delhi was the resource person for the day. He reflected on various aspects of qualitative research. He elaborated on the domains of research. He explained about Ethno-methodology and stressed that interpretative understanding of the society is essential in order to draw generalizations. He also addressed several issues related to writing quality research papers. He concluded his lecture by highlighting the importance of qualitative research. This was followed by interactive session which proved to be enriching for all the participants.

We hope that the workshop was an intellectually stimulating experience for all and enhanced the knowledge of the participants.

INTRODUCTION

Logical and conceptual knowledge is a prerequisite of good research. This workshop on research methodology aims to develop and promote research acumen amongst the research scholars in faculties of Arts & Social Sciences and Commerce & Management. This workshop has been designed to integrate qualitative and quantitative techniques and to orient the research scholars towards fundamentals of research so that they can comply with the quality standards of research in their respective disciplines.

OBJECTIVES

This workshop will train the participants in the following key areas:

1. To enable the participants to develop skills to conduct quantitative and qualitative research.
2. To familiarize the participants with the basics of data handling and analysis.
3. To give hands on experience in research to the participants through the practical work assigned to them.
4. To enable the participants to develop research plan proposal.
5. To develop the applied research skills of the participants.

TARGET OF PARTICIPANTS

Target participants for the proposed workshop will be the research scholars from Arts & Social Science, and Commerce & Management.

DATES AND VENUE

Date 04 April -10 April, 2016

Venue The IIS University, SFS,
Gurukul Marg, Mansarovar, Jaipur-20

OUTCOME

It is expected that the participant would be able to :

- Draft a research plan proposal in their area of interest.
- Provide a write up on the learning from the workshop and how the same would be implemented by them.

7-Day Workshop on Research Methodology for Faculty of Arts & Social Science, Commerce & Management
Organized by Centre for Research, Innovation and Training
The IIS University, Jaipur

4 April - 10 April 2016

REPORT

Logical and conceptual knowledge is a prerequisite of sound research. The aim of the 7-Day workshop on research methodology was to promote research acumen among young researchers in the faculties of Arts and Social Sciences and Commerce and Management. The workshop was organized from 4-10 April, 2016 by the Centre for Research, Innovation and Training, The IIS University, Jaipur with the following objectives:

- To enable the participants to conduct effective qualitative and quantitative research.
- To familiarize the participants with the basics of data handling and analysis.
- To give hands on experience in research to the participants through the practical work assigned to them.
- To enable the participants to develop research plan proposal.
- To develop the applied research skills of the participants.

A brief report of the workshop is as follows:

There were three sessions of one and a half hour each. The workshop was attended by 35 participants from various universities.

DAY I

The sessions on day one were devoted to Problem Identification & Review of Literature. The resource person for the sessions was Prof. N. K. Garg, Dept. of Commerce, MDS University Rohtak. Prof Garg enlightened the students on the basics of formulating a research problem and proper referencing. The students were exposed to several techniques of looking for research problems and giving citations to sources. The last session of the day was planned to give practice to the participants on the learning of the day.

DAY II

The second day of the workshop was planned to update the participants about research designs, experimental designs and measurement of scales. The first session of the day was taken by Prof. Ameeta Sharma, Dept. of Statistics, University of Rajasthan. Prof. Sharma taught the basics of research designs to the participants. Her lecture covered the important types of research designs such as experimental, correlational, case study, survey and longitudinal. During the second session of the day Dr. Bhawana Arya, Dept. of Psychology, The IIS University, Jaipur talked in detail about the designs in experimental research. The participants were made familiar with the different designs followed in experimental research and the strengths and limitations of each type of design. Since an effective designs ensures an effective research, the session delved into the importance of research designs. The third session of the day was taken by Prof. Nisha Yadav, Dept. of Sociology, The IIS University, Jaipur. Prof. Yadav apprised the students with the different types of scales and the procedure of their construction. The students learned the basics of scale construction.

DAY III

The third day of the workshop was dedicated to teaching the research scholars effective methods of conducting review of literature identify research gaps and arrive at a research problem. The resource person for all the three sessions was Dr. Satish Kumar, Dept. of Management, MNIT, Jaipur. Dr. Kumar demonstrated effective ways to extract data from online databases and identify valid research gaps which can be subsequently taken up as research questions. He also did a lot of exercises with the participants to ensure maximum learning. The last session of the day was a practice session for participants, supervised by Dr. Kumar. The students tried to identify gaps and write research questions.

DAY IV

Day five was scheduled for variable selection and hypothesis formulation. Dr. Ashwini Kumar, Dept. of Management, JKLU, Jaipur was the resource person for the day. The first session was dedicated to selection of variable and their measurement. Dr. Ashwini shared with the students the classification of variables into dependent and independent variable. Variables can vary between people (IQ, Height), places (weather, unemployment) or time (profit, sales, motivation, absenteeism, productivity). In the second session, Dr. Ashwini talked about the various types of hypothesis. The important things while framing a hypothesis include level of significance, confidence level, one-tailed Vs two-tailed tests and power of test. The third session of the day was designed as the practice session to enable to the participants to apply the knowledge gained during the first two sessions. They completed worksheets to practice variable selection and hypothesis formulation.

DAY V

The first session of day five focused on the tools of data collection. Data for research can be collected through interview, schedule and many other secondary sources. The resource person for this session was Prof. N.D. Mathur, Dept. of EAFM, University of Rajasthan. Prof. Mathur delved into the details of data collection through primary and secondary sources. He also talked about the common mistakes made by research scholars while collecting data. According to him secondary sources have their own importance and all data sources should be handled with care. The second session was also taken by Prof. Mathur in which he talked about ethical report writing and writing a research proposal. Plagiarism is a major problem of research writing. He shared many tips with the participants to avoid plagiarism. The final session was designed to give practical exposure to the participants. The session was facilitated by Dr. Bhawana Arya. In this session, the students were asked to start working on a research proposal which was to be presented on the final day of the workshop.

DAY VI

Day six of the workshop was dedicated to develop the skills of questionnaire formation in the participants. The sessions were conducted by Prof. Sanket Viz, Dept. of Management, BPS Mahila Vishwa Vidyalaya, Sonapat. The students understood the steps in the formation of a questionnaire. Prof. Viz. talked about the different types of questions with their strengths and limitations. An adequately designed questionnaire leads to collection of relevant data for the purpose of research. The last session was designed as a practice session for the participants. Prof. Viz guided the participants through the process of developing a questionnaire.

DAY VII

The final day of the workshop was dedicated to the presentations of research proposals by the participants. The resource person for the day was Prof. Vinay Srivastava, Dept. of Social Anthropology, University of Delhi. In the first session Prof. Srivastava talked in detail about the field research. Ethnography and its importance in social science research was discussed at length. The remaining sessions saw the presentation of the research proposal prepared by the participants. Prof. Srivastava listened to each proposal and provided his valuable suggestions to the participants. The sessions were followed by valediction. Prof. Srivastava gave away the certificates to all the participants.

The 7-day workshop was a great learning experience for all the participants.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Research Methodology is a way to systematically solve the research problem. A researcher must know the rationale for using specific methods or techniques and establish their relevance. Research Methodology is dynamic in nature and equips researchers with comprehensive outlook about the research. The workshop will impart the participants with knowledge of research methods, research process, use of research tools and techniques, writing and presentation skills. The Workshop also expects to prepare participants to approach research in a pragmatic way, reshaping the research question and the argument in context of engaging in empirical data collection. The workshop will primarily facilitate exchange of knowledge, experiences and best practices aimed at mitigating common pitfalls in research. By the end of the programme, the participants should be confident in using the right methods and tools to analyze data. They will also be able to better design their primary research studies as well as to quickly enter and analyze this information.

OBJECTIVES OF THE WORKSHOP

The primary objective of this workshop is to develop the research & analytical skills among PG students and researcher scholars of Science Faculty. Through the workshop, the participants will be able to have a better understanding of the following issues:

- Formulation of research problems
- Access of e-Journals and Research-based websites
- Developing suitable methodology for addressing the key issues in research
- Enable the participants to understand the need for statistical tools in research
- Strengthen the ability to frame, formulate and test the hypothesis
- Acquaintance with sampling, optimization and simulation techniques
- Understand the mechanics of writing research report, research paper, publishing and selecting journals
- Understanding the best ways to identify potential funding sources
- Ethics of scientific writing (including information about plagiarism)

KEY HIGHLIGHTS OF WORKSHOP

The key highlights of the workshop are:

- Developing skills for preparation of effective Research design
- Application of statistical tools for data analysis
- Understanding common errors in research
- Discussion on application of optimization and simulation techniques in research
- Correlation and Regression analysis
- Use of reference software-Endnote

TARGET PARTICIPANTS

The proposed workshop is meant for Postgraduate students and Research scholars of faculty of Science.

Report of CRIT Workshop on Research Methodology

Science

26.3.16 to 1.4.16

A 7-day workshop on research methodology was successfully organized from 26th March to 1st April 2016 by the Centre for Research, Innovation and Training (CRIT), The IIS University. The workshop communicated about various research methods, research processes, use of research tools and techniques, writing skills to the young researchers. The Workshop endeavored to prepare participants to approach research in rational way, streamline the research question and pointed in context to empirical data collection strategies.

Prof R.K Bansal, Emeritus Professor, Department of Chemistry delivered the first talk on formulation research problem and keenly discussed the importance of scientific research in one personal and professional growth. The knowledge shared by him guided the participants to channelize their thoughts in conducting basic and applied research. Next two sessions were on structured literature review where Dr Satish Kumar, Assistant Professor, MNIT explained the significance of organizing research papers in library form. He conveyed that the precise management of references saves time initiating quality research.

The second day of the workshop was on research methods, good practices in research and related problems faced by a researcher Dr. C .S. Gahan from Central University Rajasthan discussed all these queries of a researcher vividly, giving real life examples. The interactive sessions were valuable to solve many questions students may have in their mind.

Proceedings sessions were initiated by Dr Anil Bharadwaj, from University of Rajasthan which focused on sampling techniques, measurement and scaling, data collection, optimization and simulation. The following sessions were on Biostatistics, Hypothesis testing, correlation and regression corresponded by Dr. S. N. Dwivedi, AIIMS, New Delhi which acquainted us with the relevance of optimized and structured data that appends to research quality with applicable results.

The next day Dr. S. C. Joshi from University of Rajasthan described the methods and benefits of data compilation and interpretation along with the details to prepare research proposal and manuscript for publication.

The sixth day of workshop with Dr. Surendra Nimesh, Central University of Rajasthan had an interactive session about reference management and various tools like Mandeley, Ref. Works, Zotero, Bibloscope and many more. Participants were highly informed and motivated to maintain their reference carefully with ease.

The last session was on Biosafety, good laboratory practices and ethics by Dr. Nidhi Gupta, Ys, SERB, DST where she talked about the prevention of large-scale loss of biological integrity, various prevention mechanisms including conduction of rules, laboratory settings, along with strict guidelines to be followed.

Internal Quality Assurance Cell
The IIS University, Jaipur

INTRODUCTION

Education is the vision of future. The current and impending social changes require radical educational responses. Teaching approach is shifting from teacher centered to learner centered approach. Therefore, the purpose of education is considered to be that of cultivating the spirit of innovation and creativity among students. The role of teachers has to be changed from that of an instructor to an agent of learning by enhancing their teaching competencies. This workshop will focus on new strategies for improving teaching and learning process.

OBJECTIVES

The workshop has been designed to achieve the following objectives:

1. To make the faculty participants familiar and friendly with the innovative tools of teaching and learning
2. To incorporate instructional designs to promote student engagement.
3. Strategies to be used inside and outside the classrooms for encouraging the culture of learning.

HIGHLIGHTS

1. Integrated sessions on innovative & learner centered teaching
2. Separate sessions on teaching methodology for Arts & Social Science, Science and Commerce & Management Faculty
3. Interaction with The Experts
4. Personalized doubt clearing

Report of 4-Day Workshop on Teaching Methodology

(05-08 August, 2015)

Organized by

Centre for Research, Innovation and Training & Internal Quality Assurance Cell

The current and impending social changes require radical educational responses. It has become imperative that traditional teaching methods are evaluated and new innovative methods are used to enhance learning and to make the classroom non monotonous. Teaching approach is shifting from teacher centered to learner centered approach. Education is a vision of future and the purpose of education is considered to be that of cultivating the spirit of innovation and fostering creativity among students. The role of a teacher has to be changed from that of an instructor to an agent of learning by enhancing their teaching competencies. To address these issues a four-day workshop on "Teaching Methodology" was organized from 5th - 8th August, 2015 by Centre for Research, Innovation and Training and Internal Quality Assurance Cell, The IIS University, Jaipur with the following objectives:

- To make the faculty participants familiar and friendly with the innovative tools of teaching and learning.
- To incorporate instructional designs to promote student engagement.
- Strategies to be used to inside and outside the classroom for encouraging the culture of learning.

A brief report of the workshop is as follows:

The workshop began with the welcome note by Prof. Subhash Garg, Dean & Director, Centre for Research, Innovation and Training, The IIS University, Jaipur. He highlighted the aims and objectives of the workshop and expressed confidence that the training sessions at the workshop will help the teachers to examine the teaching strategies in a critical manner and build a foundation for creative and interesting teaching –learning strategies.

One hundred and fifty five faculty members of The IIS University, Jaipur participated in the workshop. Joint sessions were organized for Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences, Faculty of Science and Faculty of Commerce and Management during the first two days of the workshop. On the third and fourth day two parallel sessions were organized for Faculty of Science and for Faculty of Arts& Social Sciences and Faculty of Commerce& Management.

Training Session I

The Resource Person for the session was Prof. N.D. Mathur, University of Rajasthan, Jaipur. The topic of the session was "Dynamics of Teaching". Prof. Mathur highlighted various aspects of inclusive teaching and the role of teacher as counsellor, communicator, collaborator and as role model. He dealt at length with the pyramid of teaching which highlighted Must, Should and Could of teaching and discussed the qualities of a creative teacher. He also analyzed the problems of teaching and the hierarchical patterns in all areas of education.

Training Session II

The topic of the session was "Teaching Aids for Effective Teaching". The Resource Person for the session was Prof. N.D. Mathur. Various aspects of effective teaching methods like case study, brain storming, group exercises, simulations, role play and use of visual aids were discussed. Group activity was also undertaken during this session which highlighted the importance of team work.

Training Session III

The third training session was on 'Teaching, Learning Process: Challenges and Instructional Strategies'. The resource person for the session was Prof. M.C. Sharma, Director, School of Education, Indira Gandhi National Open University, New Delhi. He stressed that learner's experience and learner's appraisal are important aspects of teaching learning process. He explained the challenges of education in context of explosion of knowledge, increased enrolment of learners, learning society, information and communication technology and value based education. He explained various learner centric instructional strategies which included computer assisted learning, culture specific pedagogy, blended learning using ICT and programmed learning strategy.

Training Session IV

The fourth training session was on "Class-Room Management and Recent trends in Educational Evaluation". The resource person was Prof. M.C. Sharma. The focus of this session was on management of human and non-human resources in the classroom. Prof. Sharma dealt with the principles and processes of classroom management which included clarity and competence, participation, democratic behaviour, self control and flexibility. He also discussed the purpose of internal assessment, marking and grading system and developing a question bank. He drew attention to the features of good evaluation as validity, reliability and objectivity. The session was then opened for discussion with the participants. The discussion revolved around problems of management of large number of students and assessment.

Parallel Training Sessions V (A)&VI (B)

This session was for the Faculty of Commerce & Management and Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences. The topic of the session was "Case Study Method of Teaching". The resource person for the session was Dr. Ashwini Kumar, J.K. Lakshmi Pat Singhania University, Jaipur. He introduced case study method as a form of instructor guided, discussion based learning. He also described various stages of case analysis.

Group activity was undertaken during which the participants were divided into ten groups. Each group was given a case for SWOT analysis which was continued in the next session. The group representatives were asked to present their SWOT analysis. The analysis was then refined by the resource person and linked to theoretical aspects. Overall it was a good learning and educative experience for the participants.

Parallel Training Sessions V (B) &VI(B)

This session was organized for the Faculty of Science keeping in mind their specific needs of teaching learning strategies. The resource person for both the sessions was Prof. Ravi Prakash, M.D. University, Rohtak. The topic for the sessions was "True education and Milestones for Success". He discussed about learning experiences from nature and about various parameters of success.

Parallel Training Session VII (A)& VIII(A)

This was a joint session for Faculty of Commerce and management and Arts & Social Sciences. The resource person for the session was Prof. Sanket Viz, BPS Women's University, Sonapat. The topic of the session was 'Applied Research as an Effective tool to enhance Class-Room Teaching-learning Process'. He discussed the use of applied research in teaching-learning strategies. This session was based on group activity. The participants were divided into 12 interdisciplinary groups. The groups were asked to choose a topic of their choice from the list supplied by the resource person. The groups were then asked to prepare a questionnaire based on their topic. This activity was continued in the next session. The questionnaires framed by different groups were then distributed among the participants. The filled questionnaires were discussed by the resource person. He enlightened the participants on various techniques of framing a good questionnaire and analysis of data. The participants enthusiastically participated in the group activity.

Parallel Training Sessions VII (B) & VIII(B)

The resource for the sessions was Prof. Ravi Prakash. The topic of the session was 'Biological Organization'. He discussed about system biology, interaction at ecosystem level which include predation and competition. Further, Hardy Weinberg's law and its application for human health was illustrated. Prof. Prakash also stressed the importance of reading books for enhancement of knowledge.

The workshop on teaching methodology was an enriching experience and enhanced the understanding of various teaching learning strategies and also innovative methods of teaching. The workshop succeeded in bringing to light the latest trends in the teaching learning process which will prove to be enriching for the faculty in the times to come.
