

CAMPUSCOPE

CREATIONS 2025

The Department of Fashion and Textiles, School of Design of IIS (Deemed to be University) proudly organized its 14th Annual fashion show CREATIONS 2025. The annual fashion show 'CREATIONS' has been a platform since its inception from 2010 for students to exhibit their talents on the ramp. The Chief Guest for the event was CEO & Editor-In-Chief, Bharat24 CMD & Editor & Chief-First India News & First India, The Guest of Honor for the event was Ms. Nidhi Gupta Agarwal, Director, Metacube Software Pvt. Ltd, Jaipur. The Judges for the show were Mr. Rishee Miglani, Youth Icon of Rajasthan & Brand Ambassador- The Fashion Connect and Ms. Farha Ansari, Fashion Designer and Stylist. A total of 36 designers, 40 models, and 18 dancers contributed to the event's vibrant atmosphere. Mr. David orchestrated the choreography and music, while the models underwent a 15-day modeling workshop program to enhance their modeling skills. The theme of the Fashion show was "Sustainability in Fashion". The themes of the rounds were Earthy Enchantment, Khadi Chronicles, Silken Splendour, Batik Bliss, Hollywood Glitz, Urban Canvas, Pharaoh Fusion, Resilient Reflection.

TEDxIISUniversity

On February 11, TEDxIISUniversity took center stage at the APJ Abdul Kalam Auditorium, Jaipur, embracing the theme "Beyond Boundaries." The roster of renowned speakers comprised Dr. Ruchi Agarwal, Atul Kothalkar, Ragini Maharaj, Nand Kishore Gupta, Lt. Gen. A. Arun, Yuvragi Rathore, Devashish Gaur, and Karanvir Bohra. Each of them presented revolutionary ideas, urging the visitors to shatter societal, intellectual, and individual barriers. The speeches struck a chord with the audience, imbuing them with a spirit of innovation and progress. The success of TEDxIISUniversity was brought about by the enthusiastic support of its revered partners. It was not just an event—it was a movement, inspiring individuals to go beyond their boundaries and create lasting impact.

Workshop on "Quality Research Paper Writing for Women in Science"

Centre for Women's Studies, IIS (Deemed to be University) organized an Association of Commonwealth Universities, UK sponsored Two-Day Capacity Building Workshop on Quality Research Paper Writing for Women in Science from 17-18 February. The workshop was organized for Ph.D. Scholars & Post graduate students in the faculty of Science. The sessions in the workshop were elements of writing a good manuscript, review of literature, descriptive data analysis, plagiarism and identifying good journals.

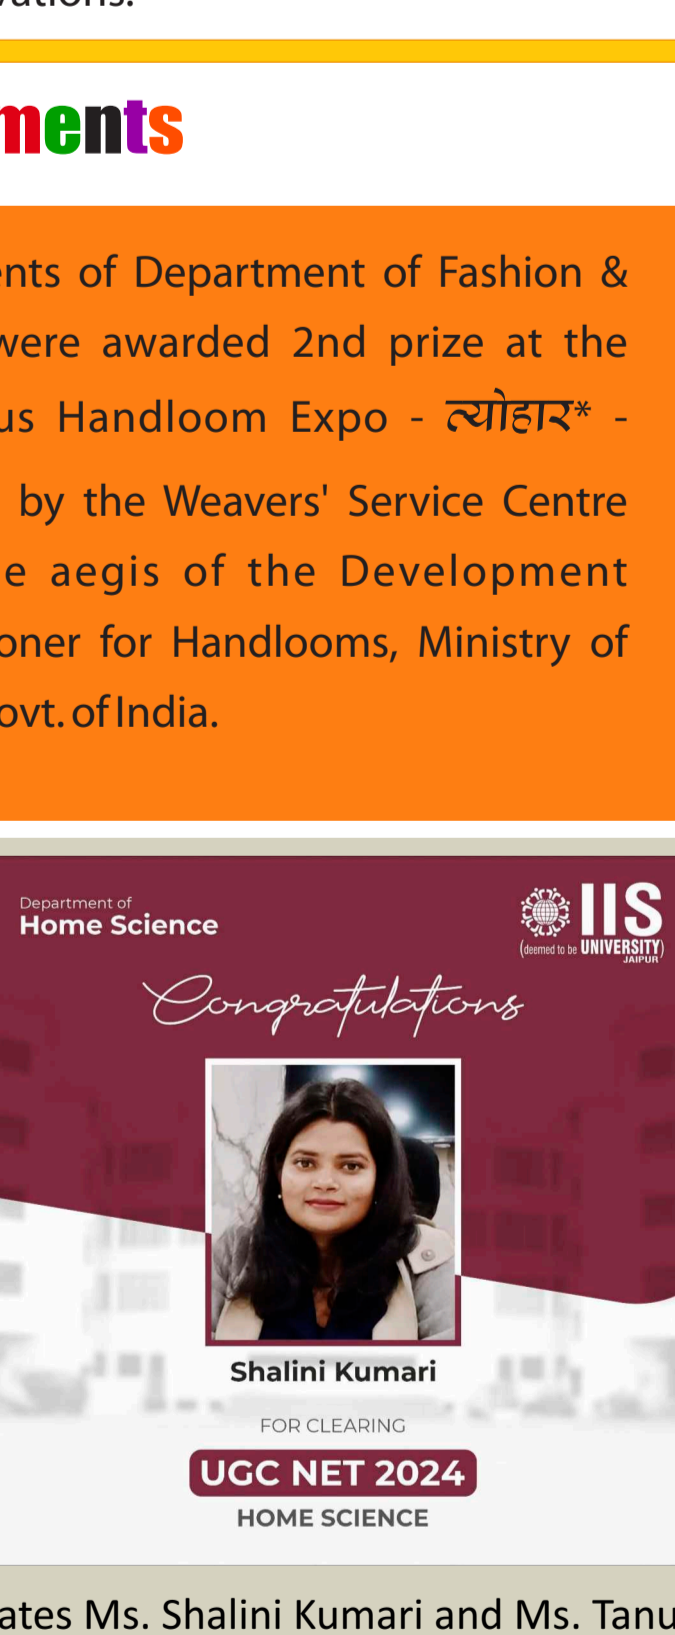

Dr. Archana Sharma, Sr. Scientist, CERN, Geneva, Switzerland was the chief guest at the inaugural ceremony of the workshop. She gave information about Big Bang theory and the standard model of particle physics. She motivated the participants to excel in life and work hard to achieve their goals. Prof. Sanjeev Verma, IIT, Kanpur, Prof. Neelima Gupta, University of Rajasthan, Dr. Pratima Khandelwal, Founder, Flyhigh MSME, Bengaluru were the resource persons. Dr. Arti Sharma, Director, Centre for Women's Studies was the workshop convener. Dr. Richa Bhardwaj, Member Secretary, Centre for Women's Studies was the workshop coordinator.

Guest Lecture on "Self Discovery through Meditation"

IIS (deemed to be University), conducted a guest lecture on "Self Discovery through Meditation" under the Department of Physical Education and Yogic Science. The session was conducted by Ms. Chanda Asani at A.V. Hall and saw enthusiastic participation from students and staff members. The lecture aimed to introduce meditation as a powerful tool for self-awareness and personal growth. The event provided attendees with valuable insights into mindfulness and well-being.

Enrichment Lecture

The Department of English Literature and Language organized an online Enrichment lecture on "Humanities and Literature" on February 25. Dr. Ipschita Chanda, Professor in the Department of Comparative Literature, School of Literary Studies at English and Foreign Language University, Hyderabad, was invited as the guest speaker to enlighten students and scholars on the enduring role of language in literature as a medium of meaning-making in human society across cultures. The session commenced with a welcome address delivered by Dr. Sanghmitra Rathore. Dr. Chanda opened her lecture with a thought-provoking question, "What do we do with language, and can it exist without our doing?" She provided deep insights into the discursive and constructive nature of language, emphasizing how literature is grounded in the understanding of human equality despite apparent differences. She also highlighted that literature sets an ethical standard of reciprocity and relativity, fostering a sense of shared humanity despite variations in experiences and perspectives. The session was followed by an engaging Q&A session, where Dr. Chanda reiterated the significance of literature in exploring and understanding human differences in a shared world.

Reader's Club Activity: "Literary Labyrinth"

The Department of English Language and Literature at IIS (Deemed to be) University successfully organized a Reader's Club activity titled "Literary Labyrinth" on February 28, 2025. The event was coordinated by the students of Semesters IV, B.A. (H) English and the objective of engaging literary enthusiasts in an interactive and intellectually stimulating literary quiz. The quiz featured a unique format in which participants were presented with quotes from various books and movies and were required to identify their sources. To cater to diverse literary interests, the quiz was structured into three engaging categories: Classics, Fantasy, and Romance. The event witnessed enthusiastic participation from students, who eagerly tested their literary knowledge. The interactive format not only challenged the participants but also encouraged active engagement from the audience, making the session both educational and entertaining.

Alumna Session

The Department of English Language and Literature organized an online alumna session, "Navigating the Transition: Unlocking Opportunities After a Literature Degree," on February 15. The session featured Ms. Pratiksha Rastogi, Class of 2020, who shared insights from her diverse career experiences. Ms. Rastogi, a writer, personal branding strategist, and entrepreneur, spoke about the broad career opportunities available to literature graduates. She challenged the misconception that a literature degree limits career choices, emphasizing the power of storytelling across industries. She shared her own journey, from pursuing an MBA to working as a content manager in Dubai, and later venturing into wedding planning and sustainable fashion.

She highlighted LinkedIn as a valuable tool for job opportunities, encouraged students to explore careers in marketing, copywriting, consulting, and entrepreneurship, reassuring them that career paths are often non-linear. The session ended with an engaging Q&A, followed by a vote of thanks from Dr. Sanghmitra Rathore. Ms. Rastogi's insights inspired students to embrace career flexibility and explore diverse opportunities beyond conventional roles.

Miscellany

The Department of English Literature and Language organized an online interactive session titled "Literature as a Mirror and a Map – Charting Life's Trajectory" on February 10. Amanda Rebeiro, an alumna from the Class of 2015 and currently an educational consultant at Edustream, Dubai, was the guest speaker. Ms. Rebeiro discussed the profound impact of literature on various aspects of life, emphasizing its role in personality development. She cited "The Road Not Taken" by Robert Frost and "Ozymandias" by Percy Bysshe Shelley as examples of literature's ability to impart life lessons. She also highlighted the skills gained through literary studies, such as organization, adaptability, research skills, mentorship, and attention to detail.

Drawing from her own experiences, she spoke about broadening perspectives through education and the importance of engaging with diverse communities. She encouraged students to enjoy their academic journey, balance work with self-care and friendships, and stay focused on their goals. The session concluded with an interactive Q&A, where Ms. Rebeiro advised students to maintain strong connections with their mentors.

The IISU Incubation Centre hosted a successful and engaging session on Science Day 2025, held on February 24th, in the AV Hall, IIS University Campus. The session focused on empowering jewellery startups by providing insights into funding opportunities, incubation support, and the art of crafting a compelling pitch deck. The event began by highlighting the importance of Science Day in promoting innovation and the role of scientific advancements in entrepreneurship. It underscored the critical link between technology and business growth, especially in sectors like jewellery, which can greatly benefit from scientific innovations.

Healthy Sandwiches from Campus-Grown Hydroponic Veggies

The IISU Incubation Centre and the Student Council hosted an exciting event at the IISU Kiosk, showcasing a unique food initiative called "Hydrobites". The event, which took place on February 10th, aimed to highlight the benefits of healthy eating by offering sandwiches made from fresh vegetables grown on the campus Hydroponics station. The event aimed to promote the use of hydroponically grown vegetables, which were cultivated and monitored by the IISU Incubation Centre and its Student Council. These nutritious, pesticide-free vegetables were incorporated into sandwiches, supporting the growing trend of sustainable and organic food choices.

Unlocking Funding Opportunities and Pitch Deck Skills for Jewellery Startups

The IISU Incubation Centre hosted a successful and engaging session on Science Day 2025, held on February 24th, in the AV Hall, IIS University Campus. The session focused on empowering jewellery startups by providing insights into funding opportunities, incubation support, and the art of crafting a compelling pitch deck. The event began by highlighting the importance of Science Day in promoting innovation and the role of scientific advancements in entrepreneurship. It underscored the critical link between technology and business growth, especially in sectors like jewellery, which can greatly benefit from scientific innovations.

Achievements

The students of Department of Fashion & Textiles, were awarded 2nd prize at the prestigious Handloom Expo - सौंदर्य* - organized by the Weavers' Service Centre under the aegis of the Development Commissioner for Handlooms, Ministry of Textiles, Govt. of India.

IIS (deemed to be University) congratulates Ms. Shalini Kumari and Ms. Tanu Gupta for clearing UGC NET December 2024.

IIS (deemed to be University) congratulates Ms. Shrutika Sharma for clearing RAS (Pre) 2024.

Abhivyakti: Annual Art Exhibition

Noor by Hansa

The IISU Incubation Centre successfully organized a Kiosk Display event showcasing the clothing brand "Noor by Hansa", led by Ms. Laxmi. The event was held on the 25th, 27th, and 28th of February at the IISU premises. This initiative was aimed at encouraging entrepreneurship and providing a platform for students to explore innovative business ventures. The Kiosk Display event provided a unique opportunity for students to witness and engage with creative entrepreneurship in the fashion industry. "Noor by Hansa" presented a diverse collection of clothing, reflecting intricate designs and high-quality craftsmanship. The event was well-received, with enthusiastic participation from attendees.

Kiosk Display

The IISU Incubation Centre successfully organized a Kiosk Display on 18th and 19th February, showcasing products by Ms. Saloni Jain, founder of Tanchui Textile and an esteemed IISU alumna. The event provided a platform for students and faculty to explore innovative textile products while encouraging entrepreneurial initiatives. Attendees engaged with the brand, gaining insights into the textile industry and sustainable business practices. The exhibition was well-received, fostering student interest in entrepreneurship.

Editorial Committee: PROF. RIMIKA SINGHVI | DR. HIMANGINI HOOJA
DR. SMITA SHARMA | DR. RIMPY SHUKLA
DR. GARIMA GIANCHANDANI