Apnagar is an NGO which works to provide happy and protected life to children who are separated from their families due to adverse and unfavorable family situations, orphans and those who have been rescued from various places where they were forced to indulge into child labour. Proper care, in respect of their health and education, is been taken care by the committee. This visit served as a great opportunity to meet these kids and spend fun and quality time with them. We celebrated the joy of sharing and gifting with the kids by giving chocolates, gifts, wafers, pens and other things which children of their age group love and enjoy. Playing games with them was an absolute joy. In return, we received the most valuable gift ever – a big smile on their faces and shine of happiness and joy in their in eyes. Those children taught us the lesson of life, ‘don’t let the situation take away your happiness and positive thinking, win over every situation that comes your way with your positive spirit and smile on your face’.
