

Yasha Mathur &
Vishvesh Mathur

Congratulations

कहानी हम कहते हैं
कुछ किस्से भी सुनाएंगे
जागरूक तुम बनना
मुद्दे हम उठाएंगे
इस गुट भरी दुनिया में
यूहीं *परिवार* बनकर रहना चाहेंगे
खामोशीयो के इस दौर में
आवाज़ हम लगाएंगे
गलत को सही करने की कोशिश में
चाहे दुनिया से लड़ जाएंगे
पर सबका हाथ थाम कर
यूहीं *परिवार* बनकर रहना चाहेंगे
तुम लड़ोगे तो मनाने हम आएंगे
तुमको सुनेंगे और ग़म हम भुलाएंगे
चाहे दुख हो चाहे सुख
यूँही परिवार बनकर रहना चाहेंगे
तुम एक पहल करना रिश्ते हम निभाएंगे
जन्मदिन तुम्हारा होगा पर गीत हम गाएंगे
प्रेक्टिस मस्ती और थोड़ी डाट के साथ
मिलकर धूम मचाएंगे
इस गुट भरी दुनिया में
यूँही *परिवार* बनकर रहना चाहेंगे

The Alumnae Newsletter
December 2022

दीक्षारंभ

This year the Students Induction Programme (SIP) organized to acquaint new entrants to the university had a unique feature. Few Alumane were called to interact with the fresher's and also to share their experience of being a part of this esteemed institution. It was organized by ICG-IISU Alumnae Association-BANDHAN at the University campus on 05 September 2022. The alumnae shared their success stories and boosted the confidence of newly admitted students. The alumnae included Laxmi Tatiwala, student of the first batch (1998), Prisha Lamba, (B. Com Hons. 2006 batch); Vertika Kedia, (B. Com. 2013 batch); Shiromi (B.A. Hons., 2016 batch); Sonal (B.Sc. Chemistry Hons., 2017 batch); Chandani Soni, (B.Com., Hons. 2018 batch); and Komal Phulwani (B. Com. 2018 batch). Prisha Lamba stated that this is a transition time for new students, and they should explore the university and actively participate in different programmes organized by the University. Vertika Kedia currently working as an entrepreneur and CA congratulated the new students on joining IISU and added that at this university she was not only taught about her subject but she also gained skills to conduct business with a problem-solving attitude. Ms. Shiromi working as a psychologist stated that it is important to give at least 5 minutes to mind, body, and soul. Ms. Sonal explained the importance of sports in a student's life as it provides mental, emotional, and physical strength.

Dr. Kanchan Sagwan

Kanchan Sagwan, in the year 2019 completed her Ph.D. with us. Today, she stands at the pinnacle of her personal long list of successes as a model, doing fashion shows with almost all the top designers of India like Manish Malhotra, Anju Modi, Rohit Bal, Ritu Beri, Bibi Russell, Pcj Jewellers, and more. And this after it was modelling was never on her list of desired career options! She has also worked with famous International Designers like Michael Cinco (Dubai), Baley Fashion (Dubai), Herend Porcelain (Hungary), Hoang Hai (Vietnam) and represented India on the International stage with several Big Designers in Europe and Vietnam and was a part of the Indian embassy shows a couple of times. After a decade in this industry, she has gained a portfolio like few others and credits the guidance and support of the faculty members in giving her the much-needed boost of self-confidence that helped her to excel not just in her academics, but also in her professional life.

Bhavna Paliwal

Bhavna Paliwal from the batch of 2007, comes to us as a social media professional, attached to the company 'Meta' the parent company of Facebook. She is a data privacy and compliance analyst, a profile that engenders trust for company clients. It is an important position that watches over and cares for all the information we put online on a daily basis, used by social media search engines for engineering personalised data. This data needs to be protected and used responsibly, making data privacy the need of the hour for all the IT companies that work on people's data. Bhavna is one such warrior out there, working behind the scenes to safeguard our digital freedoms. She remembers her time at ICG as eventful and vocationally useful, giving her soft skills which helped her grow in life, and were as important as the lifelong friendships she made here.

Shreya Agarwal

Shreya Agarwal of the batch of 2005 is on the Board of directors, IITB alumni association and is the Scientific advisor at Aadar, Mumbai. She is also Co-founder of The Happy Collar, and has been a visiting scientist at University College of London (UCL). Shreya is also a Samsung Innovation Awardee for maternal and child health. A University gold medalist in Masters, she attained her PhD from IIT Bombay and went on to make significant academic achievements including 2 patents, one book chapter, and a few publications. She has also undertaken several Diploma courses in Intellectual Property Rights, Naturopathy and Yog, Biotechnology business management. With such a wealth of expertise, she conducts workshops and seminars on preventive healthcare and sustainable living to provide self-improvement opportunities to other learners.

Vipasha Bhatnagar

Vipasha Bhatnagar, a proud alumna of ICG, Jaipur, of the class of 2019. Today she is a self-employed business owner and is associated with 2 NGOs – Durga Kriti Society & Motopaws (Lead of Jaipur). Her first startup was 'Art of Sustainability' an E-commerce platform to sell handmade & sustainable products by reusing waste plastic & glass bottles, as well as products like Bamboo toothbrushes, bamboo plates & bowls, thrift clothes, etc. The second business is 'The Work Yard' two co-working spaces that grew during Covid times to answer the need for individuals working from home to find a professional workspace to do their office work. And last but not least is 'Ads Grip' which she co-founded in 2017. Driven by strong values, Ads Grip is a leading digital marketing & web development agency based right here in Jaipur. They have worked with over 50+ top-notch brands in the hospitality, education, and economic industries. Despite all her achievements, Vipasha remains grounded and still tries to grow and learn new things daily.

Dr. Aparna Dixit

Coming to us from the batch of 2002, Dr. Aparna Dixit is a compassionate soul who is on a self-confessed journey of learning, enlightenment and transformation. Presently working with St. Xavier's College, Jaipur as Head, Department of Science for 14 years, she is a firm believer in, "If u want to bring the change, start it with yourself." She is also the Founder and CEO of the Jaipur Children's Festival (JCF), an Author, Content Evangelist, and writer. She is a Youtuber and Certified Coach for Life, Happiness, Emotional Intelligence, Spirituality, and the Law of Attraction. She carries the roles of a mother, wife, mentor, coach, sister, and friend, but above all believes that she is a human who believes in contributing to constructive thoughts, positivity and smiles to humanity and the universe.

Suruchi

Suruchi came to be a part of the very first batch of the IISU family and pursued her UG in commerce followed by a masters in Marketing. Her perceptions of her new college environment grew as the institution grew around her, helping her acquire lessons beyond classroom teaching. In her own words, "ICG gave us the best experience of college, and at the same time prepared us to face the world." Today, she has the privilege of being able to pursue the work of her choice as a micro-influencer on Twitter and Instagram. She has also created a unique platform in her city called 'Kisseagrass', which provides a creative space for talent, and through which she organizes some unique activities each month. The feathers in her cap are her family - loving husband and two talented kids. Both her daughter and son are published authors, and her son also actively does promotions on Instagram. She believes life is about making the best use of choices and counts ICG as one such choice!!

Pinky Maheshwari

We are pleased to introduce Pinky Maheshwari of the batch of 2004 who did her MBA and built an impressive resume with her 8-year run at the World's largest advertising agency Ogilvy & Mather, Mumbai, followed by a 2-year stint with Vodafone. In 2015, she and her mother started the #WomenOwnedBusiness 'Surprise Someone', in which they make recycled handmade paper from cotton rags/ waste cotton, to which they add seeds to give back to nature and help save forest reserves and protect the environment. Their efforts bore fruit when they were selected by Startup India amongst 50 start-ups in India to showcase their products at the India International Trade Fair 2017, New Delhi. This Mother-daughter duo teaches the art of making paper and products from paper, working toward women's empowerment at all levels. Pinky has also been featured as a panelist by *Facebook India* for *FB Live* at Facebook HQ India, and at the 28th National Annual Convention by GMA.

Her exhaustive list of achievements includes her selection by Walmart India for a Women Entrepreneurship Development Program-Class Room Training project and she has been awarded for her extensive work by several worthy names in the entertainment and commerce industries, Nationally and Internationally.
